Ohio Digging Out of Its Deep Freeze

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio headed out of its deep-freeze weekend Monday after record low temperatures, but the weatherman warned the big thaw was still not in sight.

More snow was forecast in the Lake Erie area and snow flurries elsewhere.

Most of the state was still covered by a heavy blanket of snow which moved in Friday.

Bitter cold and swirling drifts followed.

At least 12 persons lost their lives as a result.

Waynesburg, in southeast Stark County, reported a starting 26 degrees below zero Sunday.

Columbus shivered with minus 11, a new record for the date. The rest of the state was not far behind: Youngstown and Toledo, minus 9; Cincinnati, minus 8 and Zanesville, minus 4, to name a few.

The latest forecast called for cloudy, windy and not so cold with snow flurries in northeast Ohio and snow squalls around Lake Erie.

Highs today were to range from 16-24 degrees in northern Ohio to 22-28 degrees in southern Ohio.

The weather bureau said Tuesday would be about the same—not warm enough to do much thawing.

Cleveland reported light snow falling early today which was expected to add two or three inches to some seven inches already on the ground. Again, winds were causing heavy drifting.

Columbus also had light snow.

Cincinnati reported snow flurries and looked for another inch. The hilly, river city has been in a traffic tangle since Friday. Many schools in the area were closed.

Most roads in the state were open again, but were slippery and snowy.

Highway crews said the below zero cold made chemicals and salt useless. Crews expected to make good headway today, however.

Ohio Auditor Election Is Under Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has asked Atty. General William B. Saxbe to say whether a statewide election must be held this year for the unexpired term of the late State Auditor Roger W. Tracy.

Brown requested the opinion after expressing belief that an election would be necessary during the so-called off year during which local officials mainly are chosen.

Gov. James A. Rhodes appointed Chester W. Goble state auditor on Nov. 10, the day after Tracy's unexpected death.

Tracy's term ends in January 1967. When Goble, former Ohio adjutant general, was appointed and it was understood that he would serve until an auditor was named who would seek election to the office in November 1966. Subsequently the question was raised as to whether the vacancy should be filled until a successor was elected and qualified next November.

There was no indication when Saxbe might rule on Brown's request.

County Post Vacated by Norton Barnes

Juvenile Probation Officer's Resignation Effective Feb. 1

Pickaway County's juvenile probation officer today submitted a letter of resignation to Juvenile Probate Judge Guy Cline.

Norton L. Barnes, who held the post since Dec. 1, 1963, cited several so-called working conditions as his reasons for leaving the county post. Barnes' letter listed Feb. 1, as the date for his termination.

Judge Cline, who didn't receive word of the resignation until late this morning, indicated the vacancy would be difficult to fill.

Statutes require the probation officer of the Juvenile Court to have a degree from an accredited college in the field of social studies. The judge said that many good people have shown interest in the position in the past, but they do not meet state requirements.

BARNES' letter of resignation said "Although the present salary is commensurate with state standards, the following working conditions have prompted my decision to resign: a probation caseload which is more than triple the suggested maximum caseload per officer under state standards; a steadily increasing intake of new cases, yet an apparent apathy toward the hiring of needed additional officers; the inadequacy of administrative, counseling, and office facilities; the lack of necessary clerical personnel; and lack of attention and planning toward alleviating the aforementioned conditions."

The probation officer also stated that the present aims and a policy of the court are a major step toward the control of juvenile delinquency and the rehabilitation of the youth who have been delinquent to themselves and society.

Barnes was hired by the court about 14 months ago when Ralph Starkey resigned the probation officer's post.

Kennedy Baby Named after U.S. Envoy

NEW YORK (AP)—The scene was the baptistry of St. Patrick's Cathedral. The principal figure was week-old Matthew Maxwell Taylor Kennedy, the ninth child of Sen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. William McCormack completed the formal baptism of the Roman Catholic rite Sunday with, "Go in peace, Matthew, and may the Lord be with you," then added, "Matthew, congratulations—a great job."

Matthew, 7 pounds, 8 ounces at his baptism, had cried only briefly as the holy water touched his skin.

Sen. Kennedy, former attorney general and brother of the late President John F. Kennedy, brought Matthew to the church and held him in his arms while waiting for the ceremony to begin.

Afterward he held the baby while photographers snapped pictures.

Matthew's middle names—Maxwell Taylor—are for the present ambassador to South Viet Nam and former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, a friend of the Kennedy family.

Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy remained at the hospital, but a hospital spokesman said she might be released Wednesday or Thursday. Sen. Kennedy took the baby back to the hospital after the ceremony.

Capital Starts Whooping It Up For President Johnson Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The capital starts whooping it up for Lyndon B. Johnson officially today, and only a dubious weatherman stands in the way of what could be one of the liveliest inaugurations since Andrew Jackson's.

Three days of partying and assorted rejoicings begin with a reception for distinguished ladies this afternoon followed by tonight's Democratic gala. This is a mammoth variety show, with an all-star cast of singers, dancers and comedians.

President Johnson returned Sunday night from a weekend in Texas, ready to celebrate his sweeping victory over Republican Barry Goldwater.

Not until the five inaugural balls are over sometime Wednesday night is Johnson likely to have another quiet moment. He planned to get in some work today on his inaugural address.

For all the accent on the gaiety, if you needed one word to describe official Washington today that word would have to be: apprehension.

With snow on the ground, more snow in the forecast for tomorrow and temperatures huddling in the 20s, the climatic possibilities are sobering if not downright frightening. The forecast for Tuesday: fair and cold.

Inauguration after inauguration, it's not so much what they say here, but the conditions under which they shiver and shake.

On the eve of John F. Kennedy's inauguration in 1961 an eight-inch snow, swirling in gusts of up to 32 miles an hour, so tied up traffic you would have thought the capital was barricaded.

Such recent nightmares, coupled with such uncertain forecasts, could hold down the crowds, even though Johnson throughout the campaign extended invitations lavishly.

Sunday night, coming back from Texas, he brought along so many friends on the presidential plane his staff members were displaced and had to ride another aircraft.

Curiously, Andrew Jackson, away back in 1829, seems to have come closest to Johnson in inviting all his friends to come.

Some 20,000 did, crowding into the White House and creating such suffocating confusion that Jackson eventually had to flee the too-friendly mob.

Well, Johnson hasn't gone that far.

Security precautions, much stronger since Kennedy's assassination, will keep everyone in his place unless he has a ticket. The 20,000 who will be dancing Wednesday night will have paid $25 each for the privilege.

Almost obscured by all the sidehows is the main point: the simple swearing-in ceremony at noon Wednesday, and the inaugural address.

Plane Tragedy Cleanup Starts

30 Die as Craft Smashes Homes

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The cleanup and the questions continued on Platt Street today.

Shock gave way to grief among survivors of the 30 people who died Saturday when a KC135 jet tanker loaded with fuel smashed into the quiet section of modest homes in northeast Wichita.

It was the city's worst disaster.

The toll included 23 residents of the area and seven crewmen of the plane which left McConnell Air Force Base three minutes before it plunged almost vertically into the street.

Five houses were consumed by the flaming fuel which splashed from broken tanks. Only the shells remained of six houses and 25 others were damaged.

Brig. Gen. Murray A. Bywater, named to head an investigation of the crash, said everything about the plane's take-off was normal.

Bywater said the craft, loaded with 80 tons of fuel for a test mission with a B52 bomber, was given clearance to make a left turn and climb on a prescribed course.

"In a very few seconds," he said, "the pilot called Mayday. Mayday, Mayday, and gave his call sign. The control tower operator cleared him to land and asked what his trouble was."

"There was no reply," Bywater said the plane was dumping fuel but that it was too early in the investigation to say whether the pilot had power or control difficulties.

Cash Sought To Aid Rights Defendants

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP)—Appeals for cash went out today as 16 men awaited arraignment in Mississippi's case of the three murdered civil rights workers.

The FBI said two other men would be arrested soon.

The two are Horace D. Barnett, 25, and James E. Jordan, who used to live here but moved elsewhere after the killings. Their present whereabouts was an FBI secret.

A federal grand jury in Jackson indicted 18 white men on charges of conspiracy in the case. Those arrested here and at nearby Philadelphia Saturday were freed on bond.

The federal government has no authority to file murder charges in the case. There was no word on plans for state action. The Neshoba County grand jury, which would consider any state charges filed, meets next month.

The three dead men were found buried deep in a red clay dam on a farm near Philadelphia Aug. 4. An undisclosed informant directed the FBI to the location.

Winston Churchill's Life Is Continuing To Ebb

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill, his life slowly ebbing, was a little weaker today, a medical bulletin said.

The bulletin was issued by Churchill's personal physician and lifelong friend, Lord Moran, after a visit to the 90-year-old statesman this morning.

It said that otherwise there was nothing to report on the old man's condition.

The text of the bulletin: "Sir Winston had a restful night. He is a little weaker, but otherwise there is nothing to report."

This was the seventh bulletin since Churchill was struck by cerebral thrombosis Friday. All have told of the steady decline of the aged statesman.

Big headlines in the morning papers reflected the nation's concern.

"Peaceful . . . but he is losing ground," said The Daily Express. "Winston worse" was the line in The Sun.

Medical authorities said Sunday night's medical bulletin, coupled with earlier indications of pulse irregularity and restlessness, foretold a gradual slackening of the old man's hold on life.

Queen Elizabeth II and the royal family led the nation's prayers for the veteran leader at a village church near Sandringham, the queen's country home.

Rites for Mother, 5 Children Booked

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Joann Parshall, 34, and five of her children who died in a fire Saturday will be buried at Collinsville near here Tuesday, after funeral services in Oxford.

The victims were the wife and children of Harold F. Parshall, 34, vice president of Radio Station WOXR in Oxford. They died when fire swept their home in snowbound Mixersville, Ind., a small community six miles southwest of Oxford.

A daughter, Debbie, 13, escaped the fire by climbing out onto a porch roof. Parshall and another son, Ronald, 11, were not home. They had spent Friday night in Oxford because of a snowstorm. Another son, Harold G., 16, was staying with his grandmother in Hamilton, Ohio.

The five unions include the telegraphers, clerks, maintenance of way personnel, dining car stewards and signalmen. Presumably any strike by them would result in a shutdown of all major carriers. Chief issues are job security and the loss of jobs through automation.

Leighly also announced that the union chiefs had reversed a 45-year-old policy and voted in favor of having the government buy and operate the railroads.

J. E. Wolfe, chief management spokesman, called the nationalization proposal "a pressure tactic by the unions."

U.S. To Hold Its Position As Top Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson told Congress today the United States "is stronger militarily than at any other time in our peacetime history."

Johnson, sending a 4,000 word special message to Congress, disclosed that he expects to submit a budget calling for defense spending of $49 billion, a drop of $300 million from this year's level and $2.3 billion less than last year.

The President unveiled three major new weapons systems he is proposing to begin this year.

One is a new missile system, the Poseidon, to increase the striking power of Polaris submarines.

"The Poseidon missile will have double the payload of the highly successful Polaris A3," he said.

To keep America superior, Johnson told Congress, "the immediate future will see further increases in our missile strength, as well as concentration on further technological improvements and continuing vigorous research and development."

The Polaris A3, with a range of nearly 29,000 miles, carries a nuclear warhead equivalent to the explosive power of about 800,000 tons of TNT.

Johnson said the increased accuracy and flexibility of the Poseidon will permit its use effectively "against a broader range of possible targets and give added insurance of penetration of enemy defenses."

Another disclosure was a series of what Johnson called "remarkable new payloads for strategic missiles."

These, he said, include "penetration aids," decoy devices to assure that missiles hit their targets through any defense; guidance and re-entry vehicle designs to increase many times the effectiveness of U.S. missiles; and new methods of reporting the arrival of missiles on target up to and including the time of explosion.

The third system is a new short-range attack missile — SRAM — that can, if needed, be mounted on B52s or other bombers.

Johnson said this missile — "a vast improvement over existing systems" — would permit a bomber to attack a far larger number of targets and do so from beyond the range of their local defenses.

The President said he will ask more than $300 million to continue a program designed to extend the life and improve the effectiveness of the B52 bomber.

At the same time, he announced elimination of two squadrons of early model B52s, "least effective" of the eight jet intercontinental bombers.

This is the first special message on defense since 1961 when President John F. Kennedy revised the recommendations of the outgoing Eisenhower administration and then added on still more because of the Berlin crisis that year.

AP Loses Suit In Appeals Court

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals reversed today by a 2-1 decision the granting of a $158,703 judgment to The Associated Press against the Taft-Ingalls Corp. in a breach of contract suit.

Taft-Ingalls Corp. is the successor to the Cincinnati Times-Star Co.

In its suit, The Associated Press claimed a breach of contract after the Cincinnati Times-Star was sold to the Cincinnati Post, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, in July 1958. The Associated Press claimed Taft-Ingalls breached its contract with the organization by not giving the required two years notice of cancellation of service.

The judgment in favor of The Associated Press had been granted in April 1963 by U. S. Dist. Judge Frank J. Battisti.

22-Car Train Derails In Lancaster Area

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—A New York Central freight train was derailed at Rushville near here today and damage was estimated at $1 million. There were no injuries.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said they could give no immediate reason for the derailment of the 22-car train enroute from Dickinson, W. Va. to Columbus.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Police Sgt. Wayne Lecroy said he had seen it happen — a car leave the scene of a collision, circle driverless in a field and return to run over its owner, lying injured.

Lecroy said the car veered into the darkness Sunday night after hitting a pickup truck. Marie Ivey, 35, of Lubbock, the driver, fell out.

Tracks showed the car circled a quarter of a mile before returning and hitting Mrs. Ivey as she lay at an intersection. She was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

U.S. To Hold Its Position As Top Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told Congress today the United States "is stronger militarily than at any other time in our peacetime history."

Johnson, sending a 4,000 word special message to Congress, disclosed that he expects to submit a budget calling for defense spending of $49 billion, a drop of $300 million from this year's level and $2.3 billion less than last year.

The President unveiled three major new weapons systems he is proposing to begin this year.

One is a new missile system, the Poseidon, to increase the striking power of Polaris submarines.

"The Poseidon missile will have double the payload of the highly successful Polaris A3," he said.

To keep America superior, Johnson told Congress, "the immediate future will see further increases in our missile strength, as well as concentration on further technological improvements and continuing vigorous research and development."

The Polaris A3, with a range of nearly 29,000 miles, carries a nuclear warhead equivalent to the explosive power of about 800,000 tons of TNT.

Johnson said the increased accuracy and flexibility of the Poseidon will permit its use effectively "against a broader range of possible targets and give added insurance of penetration of enemy defenses."

Another disclosure was a series of what Johnson called "remarkable new payloads for strategic missiles."

These, he said, include "penetration aids," decoy devices to assure that missiles hit their targets through any defense; guidance and re-entry vehicle designs to increase many times the effectiveness of U.S. missiles; and new methods of reporting the arrival of missiles on target up to and including the time of explosion.

The third system is a new short-range attack missile — SRAM — that can, if needed, be mounted on B52s or other bombers.

Johnson said this missile — "a vast improvement over existing systems" — would permit a bomber to attack a far larger number of targets and do so from beyond the range of their local defenses.

The President said he will ask more than $300 million to continue a program designed to extend the life and improve the effectiveness of the B52 bombers.

At the same time, he announced elimination of two squadrons of early model B52s, "least effective" of the eight jet intercontinental bombers.

This is the first special message on defense since 1961 when President John F. Kennedy revised the recommendations of the outgoing Eisenhower administration and then added on still more because of the Berlin crisis that year.

It appeared that Johnson was

Once Around Roundtown

A MARINE Corps recruiting sergeant probably could have gotten a whole sheaf of testimonials about Marine food here during the weekend . . .

All meals served at the district BPO Elks meeting were prepared by an ex-Marine who spent four years as a specialist in a Leatherneck kitchen . . . He was Earnest Lindsey, son of the local baker . . . Compliments were showered on the young chef, but he gave out no secrets.

PICKAWAY County Prosecutor Robert Huffer's favorite joke is about his kid brother, Roy Huffer Jr., the county's state representative and a law partner with Robert . . . Seems Roy wants to change the name of the law firm from Huffer & Huffer to Huffer & Huffer. "The kid wants to be listed first," the prosecutor jests.

CIRCLEVILLE State Highway Patrol Post officers investigated 16 accidents during the weekend in Pickaway and the southern portion of Franklin County . . . No injuries resulted.

Sgt. S. L. Adomaitis, post commander, attributed the rash of non-injury accidents to the weather . . .

"Motorists haven't adjusted to prevailing conditions yet," Adomaitis said today. "They speed up when they hit a clear section of road, then lose control on an icy spot or in a snow drift." . . .

City police said no accidents were reported here during the weekend, although seven were investigated on Friday . . . Only one minor fender bender was reported today.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A constitutional amendment to authorize the apportionment of one house of a state legislature on factors other than population was proposed today by Rep. William L. Harsha, R-Ohio.

He said he is proposing the step to establish the people's right to choose whether they wish to have one house of their state apportioned on the basis of factors other than population.

"The Supreme Court has devoted attention only to the issue of numerical equality," Harsha said, "but should be balanced by other equally important factors."

22-Car Train Derails In Lancaster Area

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — A New York Central freight train was derailed at Rushville near here today and damage was estimated at $1 million.

There were no injuries.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said they could give no immediate reason for the derailment of the 22-car train enroute from Dickson, W. Va. to Columbus.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Police Sgt. Wayne Lecroy said he had seen it happen — a car leave the scene of a collision, circle driverless in a field and return to run over its owner, lying injured.

Tracks showed the car circled a quarter of a mile before returning and hitting Mrs. Ivey as she lay at an intersection. She was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

U.S. To Hold

aiming to put his own imprint on a defense policy he inherited from Kennedy.

Johnson made no appreciable change in the Kennedy policy and there was every indication he would continue along the same course.

Basically, that policy involves building U.S. power to deal with all kinds of threats ranging from subversion and "little wars" to all-out nuclear war. That policy has been called "flexible response."

The President has placed strong emphasis on all possible economies in national defense and has embraced McNamara's cost-reduction program, as well as McNamara's strategic ideas.

2-Car Crash Results in Six Injuries

Six persons, all members of one family, were injured in a two-car collision on the Circleville-Groveport road five miles north of Ashville at 6:24 p.m. yesterday.

Admitted to Grant Hospital in Columbus were Elizabeth Horsley, 38, and Cecil Horsley, 12. They were passengers in a car driven by Wayne Horsley, 45, of Ashville.

The three other occupants of the auto were Barbara, 13, Rebecca, 3, and Gary, 15. They were given emergency treatment at Berger Hospital and then released.

The Horsley auto was struck by a car driven by Donald Hollis, 24, of 218 Watt St. He was northbound. Sheriff's deputies said Hollis lost control of his car on an icy spot in the road and veered left of center. The two cars, both demolished, struck headon.

Bike Safety Meet

Members of the local Bicycle Safety Committee will meet today at Circleville High School. The session will start at 8 p.m. in Room 10.

Police Probe Vandalism, Entry Tries

Three cases of entry and vandalism were investigated yesterday by city police.

Patrolmen Wesley Barton and Larry Pontious, while on routine patrol, discovered a smashed window at Dean's Potato Chips plant at 900 S. Pickaway St. They said part of a concrete block had been tossed through the glass.

The piece of block landed on a desk inside the building. Officers said there apparently was no attempt made to enter the plant.

Larry Metz, 464 Brown St., told officers his storage barn at 901 S. Clinton St. was entered for the third time within a week. He said about a dozen old batteries and an unknown amount of scrap were taken.

ENTRANCE to the barn was gained by tearing off boards that had been placed over a window. The glass in the frame had been broken during an earlier entry.

Helen Shadley, 631 Clinton St., reported that the padded dash inside her car was cut. The vehicle was parked at her home.

Speeders Top Court Docket

In spite of hazardous weekend driving conditions, most of the motorists cited into Circleville Municipal Court were charged with speeding.

County Board Reorganizes

Wendell Evans was re-elected president and Paul Cromley vice president Saturday when the Pickaway County Board of Education conducted its reorganizational meeting.

Other members of the board are C. E. Dick, Ralph Betz and Judson Beougher.

George McDowell, County superintendent, serves as clerk of the board.

The board meets the first Wednesday of each month.

Chin Cut Caused By Fall on Ice

Hazardous weather was the source of injury for a local boy who received treatment during the weekend in the emergency room at Berger Hospital. Three persons were treated and released.

Tommy Archer, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Archer, fell on the ice and lacerated his chin.

Lowell Williams, 18, Route 1, Chillicothe, spilled hot grease and burned both feet.

Norma Hill, 34, Lancaster, suffered a laceration to his scalp when a lamp broke while he was working at the General Electric Lamp plant.

welcome side effect. Weekend traffic fatalities, usually high, took only one life.

But six persons died shoveling snow, two transients froze to death, and two little girls drowned in an icy lake.

With another mass of cold air moving in from the arctic, little relief was in sight for the eastern half of the nation.

The Weather Bureau said fresh snow will blanket a stretch from Upper Michigan to eastern and northern Indiana, then diminish to flurries late today. However, another snow storm is brewing in northern Alberta and will move into the Midwest Tuesday.

Indiana — hardest hit of the Midwest states — was still suffering from the weekend storm, although major highways were open. The 12-inch snowfall still had secondary roads clogged and most schools in the middle of the state were closed today.

Indianapolis was to go without garbage collection today, as sanitation trucks helped plow paths through the city's streets.

In the West, there was a mid-winter warm spell, with Los Angeles registering 85 degrees.

In the far Northwest, thick fog halted air travel in the Washington coastal region and slowed shipping in Puget Sound.

Car Smashed By Snowplow

An automobile was demolished 3:30 p.m. Saturday when it collided with the Pickaway Twp. snowplow on the Circleville-Tarleton Road just east of Route 23.

Injured in the collision was William R. Curry Jr., 28, of 214 W. High St. He was given emergency treatment at Berger Hospital and released.

Curry told sheriff's deputies he had pulled left of center to avoid a snow drift in the road. Because of the blowing snow, he stated he did not see the snowplow approaching.

Hoyt Timmons, 51, a Pickaway Township trustee, was driving the truck. He stated that blowing snow also obscured his vision.

Damage to the truck was confined largely to the snow plow mounted on the front.

Stolen Auto Is Recovered

An automobile belonging to Henry Ayers Jr., Route 1, stolen Friday evening, was recovered 12:40 p.m. Saturday, according to Circleville Police.

The car was found by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff John Wolford. It was abandoned at Lowery Lane.

Police said the car was left there early Saturday morning. The theft is under investigation.

News Briefs

GENEVA (AP) — Indonesia intends to stay in the World Health Organization and some other U.N. specialized agencies, an official of President Sukarno's government said today.

The decision was announced by Mrs. Hurustiati Subandrio, deputy minister of public health and wife of Foreign Minister Subandrio.

This was one of a series of offshoots of Indonesia's proclaimed withdrawal from the United Nations, still to be formalized by a written document.

BUKAVU, the Congo, (AP) — Violent reactions were feared today from followers of assassinated Premier Pierre Ngendandumwe of Burundi.

Reports reaching this eastern Congo border town said the premier was shot with an automatic rifle last Friday after coming from a hospital where his wife had just given birth to a son.

Ngendandumwe was named premier by King Mwambutsa IV only eight days before. He was a member of the Hutu tribe, many of whose leaders have been educated in Western universities. They oppose the Tutsi tribes, whose leaders are said to support the Red Crinse.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A group of interns seeking higher pay from the government is threatening a nationwide doctors' strike in Mexico.

The Mexican Association of Resident and Intern Physicians says 5,000 of its members have been on strike since last Wednesday in 157 hospitals. They are employed mainly by the government.

The interns want a minimum $96 a month for the lowest paid student and an increase from $120 to $240 for third-year graduate resident doctors. The association says the present minimum salary is $20 a month.

LONDON (AP) — At least nine persons were feared dead today after the worst gales in 10 years battered the British Isles and the Bay of Biscay.

Four hunters were missing in the Lancashire mares; police found the body of a fifth. Two fishermen drowned in Dover harbor and two others were killed in a highway accident.

Weathermen said gales up to 100 miles an hour lashed the English Channel. The storm also brought rain, snow and sleet.

MR. THOMAS BERGEN
Services were to be conducted 3 p.m. today at the Defenbach Funeral Home for Mr. Thomas Bergen, 31, who was killed Friday near Logan in an automobile accident.

The Rev. O. F. Gibbs officiated at services, followed by cremation.

MR. WILLIAM KITCHEN
Mr. William Kitchen, 79, Ashville, died early today at his home.

He was born March 5, 1885, in Blaine, Ky., the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kitchen.

Mr. Kitchen is survived by his widow, Ette Kitchen; three sons, William J., Bronson and Roy Kitchen, all of Ashville; five grandchildren; two great-grandchildren.

Services will be 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Bastian Funeral Home, Ashville, with the Rev. John Morgan officiating. Burial will be in Harrison Twp. Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

MRS. MARY ELLEN GLICK
Mrs. Mary Ellen Glick, 87, Ashville, died early Sunday in Berger Hospital.

She was born Sept. 17, 1877 in Walnut Twp., the daughter of William and Rebecca Heim Boyer.

Mrs. Glick is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Services will be 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Bastian Funeral Home with the Rev. Henry Giese officiating. Burial will be in Reber Hill Cemetery.

Audit Shows Records in Good Shape

An examiner's report covering an audit of Circleville public offices has indicated a general good job of record keeping here.

The examination, conducted by the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices within the State Auditor's Department, covered the period from Nov. 1, 1962 to June 30, 1964.

No errors for adjustment or no findings for recovery were listed on the examiner's report. Copies of the audit have been forwarded to the auditor and solicitor here.

The examination pertains to all offices with the city's governmental structure. In many cases the examiner referred to the records as being kept in a neat and accurate manner.

The local records were audited by R. B. Sullivan, state examiner.

aiming to put his own imprint on a defense policy he inherited from Kennedy.

Johnson made no appreciable change in the Kennedy policy and there was every indication he would continue along the same course.

Basically, that policy involves building U.S. power to deal with all kinds of threats ranging from subversion and "little wars" to all-out nuclear war. That policy has been called "flexible response."

The President has placed strong emphasis on all possible economies in national defense and has embraced McNamara's cost-reduction program, as well as McNamara's strategic ideas.

2-Car Crash Results in Six Injuries

Six persons, all members of one family, were injured in a two-car collision on the Circleville-Groveport road five miles north of Ashville at 6:24 p.m. yesterday.

Admitted to Grant Hospital in Columbus were Elizabeth Horsley, 38, and Cecil Horsley, 12. They were passengers in a car driven by Wayne Horsley, 45, of Ashville.

The three other occupants of the auto were Barbara, 13, Rebecca, 3, and Gary, 15. They were given emergency treatment at Berger Hospital and then released.

The Horsley auto was struck by a car driven by Donald Hollis, 24, of 218 Watt St. He was northbound. Sheriff's deputies said Hollis lost control of his car on an icy spot in the road and veered left of center. The two cars, both demolished, struck head-on.

Bike Safety Meet

Members of the local Bicycle Safety Committee will meet today at Circleville High School. The session will start at 8 p.m. in Room 10.

Police Probe Vandalism, Entry Tries

Three cases of entry and vandalism were investigated yesterday by city police.

Patrolmen Wesley Barton and Larry Pontious, while on routine patrol, discovered a smashed window at Dean's Potato Chips plant at 900 S. Pickaway St. They said part of a concrete block had been tossed through the glass.

The piece of block landed on a desk inside the building. Officers said there apparently was no attempt made to enter the plant.

Larry Metz, 464 Brown St., told officers his storage barn at 901 S. Clinton St. was entered for the third time within a week. He said about a dozen old batteries and an unknown amount of scrap were taken.

ENTRANCE to the barn was gained by tearing off boards that had been placed over a window. The glass in the frame had been broken during an earlier entry.

Helen Shadley, 631 Clinton St., reported that the padded dash inside her car was cut. The vehicle was parked at her home.

Speeders Top Court Docket

In spite of hazardous weekend driving conditions, most of the motorists cited into Circleville Municipal Court were charged with speeding.

Of the 13 names listed on the completed court docket, 10 were speed violators.

Charged with exceeding the speed limit by 15 miles per hour were:

Naomi Michaels, 27, Chillicothe; Emmitt Emerine, 31, Route 3; James Knisley, 23, Columbus; Robert Tanner, 24, Columbus; Lawrence Wickline, 28, New Albany.

Charged with speeding 60 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone and fined $10 and costs were:

Cecil T. Hanes, 21, of 329 Watt St.; Edward T. Vetter, Portsmouth; Herbert Hackney, Sitka, Ky.; Roger Crabtree, 21, Jackson; Edward R. Young, 57, Portsmouth.

George M. Reiss, 24, Columbus; $15 and costs for operating a motor vehicle with defective brakes.

Franklin Jenkins, Mechanicsburg; $15 and costs for failure to yield the right of way. James E. Collins, 47, Chillicothe; $35 and costs with $10 of the fine suspended for failure to maintain an assured clear distance ahead.

County Board Reorganizes

Wendell Evans was re-elected president and Paul Cromley vice president Saturday when the Pickaway County Board of Education conducted its reorganizational meeting.

Other members of the board are C. E. Dick, Ralph Betz and Judson Beougher.

George McDowell, County superintendent, serves as clerk of the board.

The board meets the first Wednesday of each month.

Chin Cut Caused By Fall on Ice

Hazardous weather was the source of injury for a local boy who received treatment during the weekend in the emergency room at Berger Hospital. Three persons were treated and released.

Tommy Archer, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Archer, fell on the ice and lacerated his chin.

Lowell Williams, 18, Route 1, Chillicothe, spilled hot grease and burned both feet.

Norma Hill, 34, Lancaster, suffered a laceration to his scalp when a lamp broke while he was working at the General Electric Lamp plant.

Ohio Digging

welcome side effect. Weekend traffic fatalities, usually high, took only one life.

But six persons died shoveling snow, two transients froze to death, and two little girls drowned in an icy lake.

With another mass of cold air moving in from the arctic, little relief was in sight for the eastern half of the nation.

The Weather Bureau said fresh snow will blanket a stretch from Upper Michigan to eastern and northern Indiana, then diminish to flurries late today. However, another snow storm is brewing in northern Alberta and will move into the Midwest Tuesday.

Indiana — hardest hit of the Midwest states — was still suffering from the weekend storm, although major highways were open. The 12-inch snowfall still had secondary roads clogged and most schools in the middle of the state were closed today.

Indianapolis was to go without garbage collection today, as sanitation trucks helped plow paths through the city's streets. In the West, there was a mid-winter warm spell, with Los Angeles registering 85 degrees.

In the far Northwest, thick fog halted air travel in the Washington coastal region and slowed shipping in Puget Sound.

Car Smashed By Snowplow

An automobile was demolished 3:30 p.m. Saturday when it collided with the Pickaway Twp. snowplow on the Circleville-Tarleton Road just east of Route 23.

Injured in the collision was William R. Curry Jr., 28, of 214 W. High St. He was given emergency treatment at Berger Hospital and released.

Curry told sheriff's deputies he had pulled left of center to avoid a snow drift in the road. Because of the blowing snow, he stated he did not see the snowplow approaching.

Hoyt Timmons, 51, a Pickaway Township trustee, was driving the truck. He stated that blowing snow also obscured his vision.

Damage to the truck was confined largely to the snow plow mounted on the front.

Services will be 2 p.m. Thursday at the Hill Funeral Home, Kingston, with the Rev. William Lockard officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Friends may call at the residence beginning 2 p.m. tomorrow and at the funeral home beginning 1 p.m. Thursday.

BUKAVU, the Congo, (AP) — Violent reactions were feared today from followers of assassinated Premier Pierre Ngendumwe of Burundi.

Reports reaching this eastern Congo border town said the premier was shot with an automatic rifle last Friday after coming from a hospital where his wife had just given birth to a son.

Ngendumwe was named premier by King Mwambutsa IV only eight days before. He was a member of the Hutu tribe, many of whose leaders have been educated in Western universities. They oppose the Tutsi tribes, whose leaders are said to support the Red Chinese.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A group of interns seeking higher pay from the government is threatening a nationwide doctors' strike in Mexico.

The Mexican Association of Resident and Intern Physicians says 5,000 of its members have been on strike since last Wednesday in 157 hospitals. They are employed mainly by the government.

The interns want a minimum $96 a month for the lowest paid student and an increase from $120 to $240 for third-year graduate resident doctors. The association says the present minimum salary is $20 a month.

LONDON (AP) — At least nine persons were feared dead today after the worst gales in 10 years battered the British Isles and the Bay of Biscay.

Four hunters were missing in the Lancashire mares; police found the body of a fifth. Two fishermen drowned in Dover harbor and two others were killed in a highway accident.

Weathermen said gales up to 100 miles an hour lashed the English Channel. The storm also brought rain, snow and sleet.

Stolen Auto Is Recovered

An automobile belonging to Henry Ayers Jr., Route 1, stolen Friday evening, was recovered 12:40 p.m. Saturday, according to Circleville Police.

The car was found by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff John Wolford. It was abandoned at Lowery Lane.

Police said the car was left there early Saturday morning. The theft is under investigation.

Top Levels Are Set by 2 Area Cows

New, officially recognized milk and butterfat production levels by registered Holstein cows in this area, have been listed in a special report from the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

Ruth Hartog Pabst 4421713, a six-year-old owned by Rhuben Jones and Sons, Route 4, produced 17,020 pounds of milk and 646 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

Orient Cremelle Bill, 4653342, a five-year-old cow owned by Orient State Institute, produced 18,180 pounds of milk and 651 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 7,800 pounds of milk by the average dairy cow.

Ohio State University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in cooperation with the Holstein organization's herd and breed improvement programs.

Your Income Tax

Provision Limits Personal Losses

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is one of a series of 11 articles prepared by the Internal Revenue Service designed to explain important changes in Federal Income Tax laws brought about by the Revenue Act of 1964. Although taxpayers are aware of the tax cut in 1964, they may not be familiar with many other changes that will affect Federal Income Tax Returns they will file after Jan. 1, 1965. Taxpayers are urged to clip and save these articles as reference material.

The Revenue Act of 1964 limits the amount of the deduction for personal casualty of theft losses to the amount of each loss in excess of $100. This, in effect, imposes a "100 dollar deductible" provision comparable to many automobile insurance policies.

This $100 is not applied to each separate item of property in respect of which a loss was sustained, but rather to the total loss arising from any particular casualty. Thus, if a hurricane damages a taxpayer's home to the extent of $90 and also his automobile to the extent of $65, the $100 limitation would apply only once to the combined loss and the taxpayer can take a $55 deduction ($155 less $100) on his Federal Income Tax Return.

A husband and wife filing a joint return will have to meet but one $100 deductible limit for each separate casualty or theft in which they either jointly or separately suffer a loss. However, if they file separate returns, each will have to meet the $100 floor for each separate loss.

As an example, if a husband and wife are joint owners of a residence and are filing a joint return they may take a $2900 deduction as a result of a $3000 storm damage loss to the residence ($300 less $100). If the husband and wife file separate returns in this case, the $100 limitation applies to both and the deduction on each return is $1400 ($1500 less $100 each case).

As another example, if a taxpayer suffers a loss of $160 on separately owned property and his wife a loss of $190 on her property, they can deduct $250 on a joint return (the sum of $160 and $190 less $100). However, if they file separate returns, the husband's deduction will be $60 ($160 less $100) and the wife's deduction will be $90 ($190 less $100).

Business losses continue to be full deductible where property is used partially for business and partially for personal purposes, the $100 deductible provision will apply only to that portion of the loss charged to personal use.

If a taxpayer has a property loss of $550 and he determines that $250 of this is a loss to property used in his business and the remaining $300 is a loss to his personal, he can take a full deduction of the $250 but only a deduction of $200 for the personal loss ($300 less the $100 deductible).

In any casualty or theft loss deduction on an Income Tax Return it must be remembered that a deduction can be taken only on that part of the loss not reimbursed by insurance or from other sources. The new $100 deductible provision applies to personal casualty and theft losses sustained after 1963.

TODAY In History

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Railroad, state and government officials were to meet again today to hear testimony in the freight train collision that claimed the lives of five crewmen Jan. 11 at Sterling.

Charles E. Heck, superintendent of the Akron-Chicago Division of the Baltimore Ohio Railroad, said testimony heard Sunday shed no facts as to the cause of the BO and Erie Lackawanna collision. Also present were representatives of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

SCIOTO VALLEY

The Scioto Valley Grange met recently with Harold Bumgarner, the worthy master, presiding.

A contribution to the Boys' Village was made. John Dowler announced the group will serve the Farm Bureau luncheon Feb. 1, at the 4-H and Grange Building. The annual men's night, when the wives of members are treated to a meal prepared by the husbands, will be Feb. 9.

A donation from A. C. Patzer of the Lockbourne Farmers Exchange was given the grange.

Members were reminded that dues should be paid. The program was three readings: "The Gift" by Cleona Dunnick; "The Gift of Time" by Gladys Vause; "The Open Door" by Virginia Fausnaugh. A song, "My Old Kentucky Home" was sung by members.

Lawrence Hoover gave a "forecast on what your pocketbook will mean to you in 1965."

Mrs. Hoover gave the thought for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bumgarner were chairmen of the refreshments committee.

SCIOTO

The business meeting of Scioto Grange was held at Jan. 7 with Master Kenneth Beach presiding.

The Girls' 4-H Club presented a very interesting program with Kathy Reese in charge. The achievement awards were presented by the leaders, Mrs. Paul Green and Mrs. Charles Reese.

Scioto Grange will be host to Pomona Grange on Feb. 6 at 11 a. m. at the Grange 4-H Building. A Pomona card party will be held on Feb. 13 with Scioto range serving refreshments.

At the next regular meeting, Jan. 21, a covered dish supper will be served at 6:30 p. m. Members are asked to please bring their own table service.

At the close of the meeting, about 70 people enjoyed cookies, ice cream, hot chocolate and coffee served in the cafeteria.

The Mariner 4 spacecraft now speeding toward Mars will help answer a question that has tantalized men for centuries: Is there life on the red planet.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I am ready to meet my Maker," Winston Churchill said. "Whether my Maker is prepared for the ordeal of meeting me is another matter."

That was on his 75th birthday, 15 years ago. It was a clear warning he intended to carry into eternity the same unflinching attitude he had on earth toward man and beast.

Unflinching was one of his favorite words.

It meant a lot to him all his life, and as it turned out, to the Western world and all mankind. For Churchill, a political failure at 65, by 70 had become one of the greatest figures in history.

How much he had come to mean was expressed as he neared his 90th birthday by C. P. Snow, the British scientist and novelist:

"We all hope he never dies. I think we have a superstitious feeling that, if he ever does go, something goes with him that Britain will not see again."

He was saucy all his life, from his youngest to his oldest days, always ready with advice and criticism, telling his contemporaries how to run their business, whether he was in the army or the government.

He knew how unpopular it made him, but this never stopped him.

Nobody ever summed up better the lifetime attitude of most people toward him — until he took command of the war against Hitler in 1940 — than Churchill himself, writing on his life in the British army when he was 23.

He said the army brass in India, in Egypt and in Britain began to take this attitude: "Who the devil is this fellow?"

But his life was built upon the three foundation stones of courage, romance and language.

Courage he had with him all ways, whether it was wandering around the Uganda lion country with a net, looking for butterflies in his 30s, wanting to take part in the Normandy invasion when he was almost 70, until the king stopped him because he was prime minister, or defying Hitler when all Europe was gone and England was alone.

He was a romantic from childhood to old age, dreaming of adventure but always of taking command. In many ways he was out of date most of his life because he dreamed of glorious tests while the world was undergoing change he sometimes seemed not to understand.

The British people themselves felt this way about him for, while they trusted him with their lives and the future of England in time of war, once it was over they threw him out to make way for the social changes Britain needed but which he himself admitted later he hadn't thought about.

And yet just because he was a romantic, as the war deepened and Britain edged toward despair, with him in command the impossible became usual, hope became a natural condition, and the British people suddenly felt that all the meaning of British history had been entrusted to him to preserve.

To the British he had suddenly become a sun shining in a dark and leaky cellar.

But it was through his genius for the language that he was able to give the British people words they wanted to say for themselves and in a way that gave significance to their agony.

Although they threw him out in 1945, after Germany fell, and the British people let the Laborites run the country six years, they called Churchill back for another four in 1951.

He was getting old. He suf-

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

R JANUARY, 1965

IT IS POSSIBLE TO AVOID A COLD. Colds are more easily caught from others as soon as their distress symptoms appear. The odds are that you will catch a cold if you come in direct contact with a cold sufferer. Therefore isolate, as much as possible, any member of the family who has one.

INCREASE YOUR RESISTANCE TO COLDS. Cold resistance is lowered by poor nutrition, tension and fatigue. Normally your body can usually overcome the virus which probably causes a cold. But lack of rest, accompanied by exposing yourself without proper clothes is an invitation to a cold. Adults must also be very careful for they are more susceptible to colds than infants.

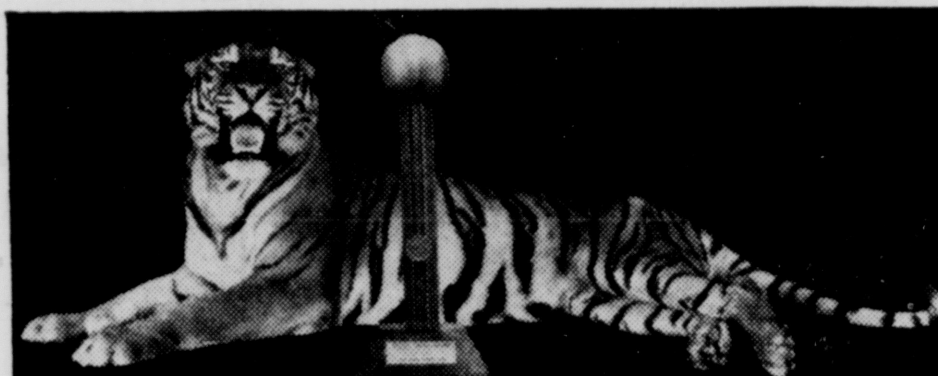

INFLUENZA IS MORE SERIOUS THAN A COLD. The early symptoms of both may seem the same. But, if the distress which accompanies a cold is not relieved in about five days, it is wise to no longer delay a visit to your physician. Complications may have developed, or possibly influenza.

COLD TREATMENT IS TO RELIEVE DISTRESS. Rest and warm surroundings help. Temperature should be checked and if it stays too high a physician is needed. Vaporizers can keep sinuses open. Cough medicines and analgesics are helpful.

DEPEND ON OUR COMPLETE STOCK. Whatever medicine, health-aid or sickroom need you require; we have it. Should you wish our professional guidance when selecting helpful products to relieve cold distress we will be glad to assist you. And, should we suggest it would be wiser to consult a physician instead of using a home treatment, it will be because we consider your better health to be more important than any immediate sale.

Anger Makes Women Blush

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Women blush more often from anger than as a result of shocked modesty.

Some people can tell the seasons by their diseases. For example, both ulcers and gout tend to flare up in the spring and autumn.

The common cold is rarely deadly but it is one of the most expensive of mankind's ailments. It costs the average family from $35 to $40 a year—and it costs industry about $5 billion annually in lost working time.

The U.S. vice presidency often has been regarded as a step toward oblivion, but eight of the 35 men elected to the presidency, died or were killed while in office, and were succeeded by their vice presidents.

Odd Legislation: A teacher can't give Bible lessons in the public grammar schools of Illinois, but the state by law provides a Bible for every prison inmate.

Great men have their problems too. Did you know that Napoleon had trouble keeping his trousers up?

Psychiatrists say these are four warning signals of a possible nervous breakdown: inability to sleep well, lack of appetite and weight loss, mental and physical sluggishness, and exaggerated feelings of guilt and personal worthlessness. Well, thank heavens, I've still got a good appetite left anyway!

Science marches on: Food firms are working on an aerosol bomb that will enable you to spray a peanut and jelly sandwich mixture.

Some safety slogans for the new year: "If people drove right, there would be more people left." "Be patient today—not a patient tomorrow."

"Driving is like baseball in a way. It's the number of times you reach home safely that counts."

Everything is inflated in value today, including people. The statistician who used to tell us that all the chemicals in our body were worth only 97 cents now reports they are worth $2.80.

It was Lewis Mumford who observed, "Our national flower is the concrete cloverleaf."

A Reverse Twist

Last autumn, as the senatorial campaigns waxed hotter and hotter in New York State and in California, at least a score of changes were rung on the subject of carpetbagging. The insinuating question, "Who sent him here?" may have been the straw that broke Pierre Salinger's back in his contest with the man who is now the junior Senator from California, George Murphy. In New York, Bobby Kennedy managed to pull through; the charge of carpetbagging was sufficiently blunted by the incontestable fact that the Kennedy family had lived for a long stretch in the New York suburban areas of Riverdale and Bronxville when Bobby was growing up.

Allegations of geographical carpetbagging are only important insofar as they point to a likely deficiency in an individual's ability to represent his chosen area. In Britain, the cry could not possibly arise; constituencies there are permitted to pick their parliamentary representatives from anywhere. Dundee, a provincial Scottish city, used to send John Starchey, a sophisticated London Leftist, to the House of Commons to look after its own special interest in spinning burlap tread of jute imported from India and it is not recorded that Mr. Starchey ever let Dundee down. The cry of geographical carpetbagging, then, can be completely beside the point.

If anything important is going to be made of the issue of carpetbagging, a more important area of investigation lies in the to represent forces that lie entirely or mainly outside the geographical borders of their own native constituencies. This poses the problem of carpetbagging in reverse, with the body of the man staying home while he strays mentally, morally and spiritually. You would think, wouldn't you, that labor, for example, would get main support from big industrial states for repeal of the section of the Taft-Hartley Act that permits local right-to-work laws. Curiously enough, however, you do not find Senator Frank Lausche of industrial northern Ohio running the ball for the AFL-CIO in the onslaught of Taft-Hartley's Section 14B. The AFL-CIO, looking for help in its anti-14B campaign, chose to pour money into pre-election support for Senator Ed Muskie of Maine, a state famous for its potatoes; for Senator Frank Moss of Utah, a state famous for its sugar beets; for Senator Ralph Yarborough of Texas, a state famous for cotton, cattle and the automatic pumping of oil; and for Senator Gale McGee of Wyoming, a state famous for ranching. These are the new who, mentally and spiritually, are now representing the prime interests of the union workers of Detroit, Pittsburgh, and Chicago.

This carpetbagging in reverse also applies to the issue of foreign policy as it affects our coastal areas. You would think, wouldn't you, that the Senators from the Pacific Coast and adjacent regions would be especially alive to the danger represented by Red Chinese imperialism. After all, it is the freedom of their ocean that would be lost if the U.S. were compelled to desert the Far East and fall back defensively on Pearl Harbor and Waikiki. But who is in the forefront of the struggle to get the U.S. to withdraw from Southeast Asia? The leaders in this curious fight are Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, Senator Ernest Gruening of Alaska, Senator Frank Church of Idaho, and Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana. They are the ones who pay no attention to General Douglas MacArthur's old warning about implacable Red Chinese imperialism drives, which are picking up renewed steam these days with the revival of the Communist Hukbalahap movement in the Philippines, the intensification of the Viet Cong campaign in South Vietnam, the threat of Cambodia to move into the Red Chinese camp, and the desertion of the UN by Sukarno's Indonesia.

East Coast Senators have always been alive to the threat of totalitarianized Europe; they have often had to fight a Hiram Johnson of California and a William Borah of Idaho to make their fears prevail. But if a Morse and a Church and a Gruening don't really care what happens in the Pacific, why should New York or Delaware or Rhode Island care? Morse, Church, and Gruening might as well say they are "Atlantic" men at heart and be done with it.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

A finger cut with a sharp knife bleeds profusely. After a few short moments of pressure, the bleeding stops and normal activity is resumed.

In those few moments a process of immense complexity has been carried out.

Blood coagulation is one of the wondrous protective mechanisms of the body, which prevents loss of blood when a blood vessel is cut or injured.

How does this remarkable process work so quickly?

The edges of a broken blood vessel release a substance called thromboplastin. This combines with calcium, globulin, platelets and a host of other factors to produce a clot.

This may sound simple, but the total mechanism of blood clot formation is one of the most intricately delicate processes of the body.

While clot formation is taking place on the broken blood vessel, dozens of other forces are at work to prevent the formation of clots throughout the rest of the circulatory system.

The action of the anti-clotting mechanisms is just as complex and brilliant as the formation of clots when needed.

The absence of one or more of the vital clotting ingredients is responsible for certain blood diseases.

A greater knowledge of the clotting process has stimulated extensive research for the production of synthetic clotting agents to replace the missing ingredients and restore the delicate balance necessary for clotting.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

The Pickaway County Farm Bureau's Recognition Party for a recent membership drive was to be held in the First EUB Church.

Circleville Firemen investigated a gas leak at the Gallaher Drug Store, W. Main St., but no damage was reported.

Seven local churches were represented at the Inter-Racial, Inter-Denominational meeting held by the WSW of the First EUB Church.

TEN YEARS AGO

City Safety Director Miller Fissell announced that a peace officers training school would open here next month.

A locomotive was being used to provide steam at the Container Corporation plant while the firm's boiler was being renovated.

Initial plans for a Spring Art Show were formulated during a meeting of the Circleville Art League.

EMPLOYEES OF THE Circleville Post Office were busy selling March of Dime badges to assist in the drive against infantile paralysis.

Twenty-five members of the Christian Endeavor Society met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Val Valentine, near Stoutsville.

The annual report of Ned H. Dresbach, deputy sealer of weights and measures for Pickaway County, showed an increase of 1,619 inspections.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's economy is coming back with a rush after the foot dragging in the autumn that caused the total output of goods and services for the year to fall just short of earlier hopes.

The first weeks and months of 1965 should see many new heights scaled. And if 1964 already is dubbed the year of the records, its glamor may be surpassed in a short time.

The very things that slowed down the rate of growth a bit in the fourth quarter of 1964 are likely to make the first months of 1965 look all the speedier.

These were the auto strikes from late September to early November, and the steel shipments to the auto companies and their suppliers that suffered from the shutdowns. Now the auto plants are turning out cars much faster than a year ago, and the steel mills are hard put to meet the early shipment requests of auto and other customers.

The big jump in industrial production in December, which apparently is continuing in January, could be one reason the stock market has gone up so strongly this month. The popular stock price averages are back within a whisker of their records set two months ago. The output jump points toward increased sales and, hopefully, profits. So stocks look good to many.

Another reason for stock price rises is fear that a new era of inflation may be in the making, because of rising labor demands and of the opening vistas of increased government spending in the years ahead. And stocks are considered a hedge against any decline in the purchasing power of the dollar.

The production success story is told in the federal reserve board's index of industrial production which uses 1957-59 as a base. The index shows a jump of 2.2 points between November and December to a record 137 per cent. This puts it 10 index points higher than in the closing days of 1963. And it brings the average figure for all 1964 to 132 per cent of the base, up 8 points from the 1963 annual average of 124 per cent.

With auto plants humming

this month to catch up strike-lost time, and steel furnaces turning out record tonnage, and with most other major industries also climbing higher, the outlook for the Gross National Product — the total output of goods and services — in the early months of 1965 grows ever brighter.

This offsets any disappointment from the slowdown in Gross National Product in October and November. Even with the strikes, the GNP did manage to climb in the fourth quarter of 1964, but at a rate only about half as fast as in the first, second and third quarters.

The government estimates the strikes cost the economy about $1 billion. This brought the GNP for the entire year to $622.3 billion.

With factories and mills going at high speed, retail sales at or near records, construction booming in most fields, and government spending high and pointing higher, the economic pace in the next few months should be a fast one.

A Reverse Twist

By John Chamberlain

Last autumn, as the senatorial campaigns waxed hotter and hotter in New York State and in California, at least a score of changes were rung on the subject of carpetbagging. The insinuating question, "Who sent him here?" may have been the straw that broke Pierre Salinger's back in his contest with the man who is now the junior Senator from California, George Murphy. In New York, Bobby Kennedy managed to pull through; the charge of carpetbagging was sufficiently blunted by the incontestable fact that the Kennedy family had lived for a long stretch in the New York suburban areas of Riverdale and Bronxville when Bobby was growing up.

Allegations of geographical carpetbagging are only important insofar as they point to a likely deficiency in an individual's ability to represent his chosen area. In Britain, the cry could not possibly arise; constituencies there are permitted to pick their parliamentary representatives from anywhere. Dundee, a provincial Scottish city, used to send John Starchey, a sophisticated London Leftist, to the House of Commons to look after its own special interest in spinning burlap tread out of jute imported from India and it is not recorded that Mr. Starchey ever let Dundee down. The cry of geographical carpetbagging, then, can be completely beside the point.

If anything important is going to be made of the issue of carpetbagging, a more important area of investigation lies in the to represent forces that lie entirely or mainly outside the geographical borders of their own native constituencies. This poses the problem of carpetbagging in reverse, with the body of the man staying home while he strays mentally, morally and spiritually. You would think, wouldn't you, that labor, for example, would get main support from big industrial states for repeal of the section of the Taft-Hartley Act that permits local right-to-work laws. Curiously enough, however, you do not

The AFL-CIO, looking for help in its anti-14B campaign, chose to pour money into pre-election support for Senator Ed Muskie of Maine a state famous for its potatoes; for Senator Frank Moss of Utah, a state famous for its sugar beets; for Senator Ralph Yarborough of Texas, a state famous for cotton, cattle and the automatic pump-jet of oil; and for Senator Gale McGee of Wyoming, a state famous for ranching. These are the new who, mentally and spiritually, are now representing the prime interests of the union workers of Detroit, Pittsburgh, and Chicago.

This carpetbagging in reverse also applies to the issue of foreign policy as it affects our coastal areas. You would think, wouldn't you, that the Senators from the Pacific Coast and adjacent regions would be especially alive to the danger represented by Red Chinese imperialism. After all, it is the freedom of their ocean that would be lost if the U.S. were compelled to desert the Far East and fall back defensively on Pearl Harbor and Waikiki. But who is in the forefront of the struggle to get the U.S. to withdraw from Southeast Asia? The leaders in this curious fight are Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, Senator Ernest Gruening of Alaska, Senator Frank Church of Idaho, and Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana. They are the ones who pay no attention to General Douglas MacArthur's old warning about implacable Red Chinese imperialism drives, which are picking up renewed steam these days with the revival of the Communist Hukbalahap movement in the Philippines, the intensification of the Viet Cong campaign in South Vietnam, the threat of Cambodia to move into the Red Chinese camp, and the desertion of the UN by Sukarno's Indonesia.

East Coast Senators have always been alive to the threat of totalitarianized Europe; they have often had to fight a Hiram Johnson of California and a William Borah of Idaho to make their fears prevail. But if a Morse and a Church and a Gruening don't really care what happens in the Pacific, why should New York or Delaware or Rhode Island care? Morse, Church, and Gruening might as well say they are "Atlantic" men at heart and be done with it.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

A finger cut with a sharp knife bleeds profusely. After a few short moments of pressure, the bleeding stops and normal activity is resumed.

In those few moments a process of immense complexity has been carried out.

Blood coagulation is one of the wondrous protective mechanisms of the body, which prevents loss of blood when a blood vessel is cut or injured.

How does this remarkable process work so quickly?

The edges of a broken blood vessel release a substance called thromboplastin. This combines with calcium, globulin, platelets and a host of other factors to produce a clot.

This may sound simple, but the total mechanism of blood clot formation is one of the most intricately delicate processes of the body.

While clot formation is taking place on the broken blood vessel, dozens of other forces are at work to prevent the formation of clots throughout the rest of the circulatory system.

The action of the anti-clotting mechanisms is just as complex and brilliant as the formation of clots when needed.

The absence of one or more of the vital clotting ingredients is responsible for certain blood diseases.

A greater knowledge of the clotting process has stimulated extensive research for the production of synthetic clotting agents to replace the missing ingredients and restore the delicate balance necessary for clotting.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

The Pickaway County Farm Bureau's Recognition Party for a recent membership drive was to be held in the First EUB Church.

Circleville Firemen investigated a gas leak at the Gallaher Drug Store, W. Main St., but no damage was reported.

Seven local churches were represented at the Inter-Racial, Inter-Denominational meeting held by the WWS of the First EUB Church.

TEN YEARS AGO

City Safety Director Miller Fissell announced that a peace officers training school would open here next month.

A locomotive was being used to provide steam at the Container Corporation plant while the firm's boiler was being renovated.

Initial plans for a Spring Art Show were formulated during a meeting of the Circleville Art League.

EMPLOYEES OF THE Circleville Post Office were busy selling March of Dime badges to assist in the drive against infantile paralysis.

Twenty-five members of the Christian Endeavor Society met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Val Valentine, near Stoutsville.

The annual report of Ned H. Dresbach, deputy sealer of Pickaway County, showed an increase of 1,619 inspections.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's economy is coming back with a rush after the foot dragging in the autumn that caused the total output of goods and services for the year to fall just short of earlier hopes.

The first weeks and months of 1965 should see many new heights scaled. And if 1964 already is dubbed the year of the records, its glamor may be surpassed in a short time.

The very things that slowed down the rate of growth a bit in the fourth quarter of 1964 are likely to make the first months of 1965 look all the speedier.

These were the auto strikes from late September to early November, and the steel shipments to the auto companies and their suppliers that suffered from the shutdowns. Now the auto plants are turning out cars much faster than a year ago, and the steel mills are hard put to meet the early shipment requests of auto and other customers.

The big jump in industrial production in December, which apparently is continuing in January, could be one reason the stock market has gone up so strongly this month. The popular stock price averages are back within a whisker of their records set two months ago. The output jump points toward increased sales and, hopefully, profits. So stocks look good to many.

Another reason for stock price rises is fear that a new era of inflation may be in the making, because of rising labor demands and of the opening vistas of increased government spending in the years ahead. And stocks are considered a hedge against any decline in the purchasing power of the dollar.

The production success story is told in the federal reserve board's index of industrial production which uses 1957-59 as a base. The index shows a jump of 2.2 points between November and December to a record 137 per cent. This puts it 10 index points higher than in the closing days of 1963. And it brings the average figure for all 1964 to 132 per cent of the base, up 8 points from the 1963 annual average of 124 per cent.

With auto plants humming

this month to catch up strike-lost time, and steel furnaces turning out record tonnage, and with most other major industries also climbing higher, the outlook for the Gross National Product — the total output of goods and services — in the early months of 1965 grows ever brighter.

This offsets any disappointment from the slowdown in Gross National Product in October and November. Even with the strikes, the GNP did manage to climb in the fourth quarter of 1964, but at a rate only about half as fast as in the first, second and third quarters.

The government estimates the strikes cost the economy about $1 billion. This brought the GNP for the entire year to $622.3 billion.

With factories and mills going at high speed, retail sales at or near records, construction booming in most fields, and government spending high and pointing higher, the economic pace in the next few months should be a fast one.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

There's a Hitch!

DEAR ABBY: When I started, going with Earl ten years ago, he promised me that after he finished his 20 years in the Navy we would get married. Well, he has been out three years now, and he never says anything about marriage any more. He even placed his hand on the Holy Bible once and swore he'd buy me a ring, so when I asked him why he didn't, he said I talked too much. After ten years of going around together he decides I talked too much!

I found a book of matches in his pocket on which was written in his own hand, "Is there any way I can see you tonight?" I am sure he wasn't writing that kind of message to another man. I am 39. Do you think it takes a 41-year-old man ten years to make up his mind?

GLADYS

DEAR GLADYS: No I think Earl finished one 20-year hitch and he's not about to go for a lifetime hitch just yet. The hand writing on the book of matches is clear enough. Don't wait for him to draw you any pictures.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is very jealous and this is one of our typical arguments. When we go out for an evening to a place where there is dancing, and friendly strangers ask me to dance, shouldn't I dance with them? I have always been taught that it isn't polite to refuse. My husband says this can lead to trouble and it isn't proper for a woman to dance with strangers. What is your opinion?

NOT SURE

DEAR NOT: Your husband is right. When left alone, would you like him to dig up another partner?

DEAR ABBY: My Mother Dad, husband and I had a big argument and we want you to settle it for us. Every time we go out for dinner, my husband orders steak. He is left-handed and can't cut it properly, so he gives his plate to me and I cut it for him. My parents say that this is not proper, but my husband and I don't see anything wrong with it. What is your opinion?

LEFTY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Why your left-handed husband has trouble eating steak is beyond me. But if he wants you to cut it and you are willing, it should be nobody else's business.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MOTHER OF SEVEN IN COLUMBUS: Television will never replace reading. Limit those children of yours to so many programs a day or when opportunity knocks later in life they won't be able to hear it for the television's blaring.

Inaugural Fashion Flurry Is Launched in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first fashion flurry of the inaugural begins this afternoon when 5,000 queue up in the National Gallery to meet Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey.

They announced in advance their gowns for the three-day inaugural celebration, a wide range from warm outdoor outfits to specially designed ball gowns.

They picked their favorite colors — Mrs. Johnson choosing bright shades of yellow, bright red and shimmering whites; and Mrs. Humphrey a patriotic wardrobe of red, white and blue.

Hats were considered optional by Perle Mesta, who issued a "what to wear" manual as social consultant to the inaugural committee chairman.

Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Humphrey planned to wear hats only to the outdoor oath-taking and inaugural parade. They were careful to see their clothes went well together, since they were making joint appearances almost everywhere.

For the late afternoon Distinguished Ladies Reception in the gallery today, dark-haired Mrs. Johnson picked a princess-line holiday-red silk afternoon dress with three-quarter sleeves and gently flared skirt. Silver-haired Mrs. Humphrey's outfit was a sleeveless silver and white brocade, with matching jacket.

For tonight's first evening appearance — the Inaugural Gala, a galaxy of entertainment in honor of the President — Mrs. Johnson's gown by Roxanne of Samuel Winston, New York, will be a long sparkling white peau de soie, with bodice of crystal jewels, bugle beads and paillettes, with matching white stole. Mrs. Humphrey planned to make a last-minute choice between her two gowns for evening formal events. She was expected to wear an empire-style red satin gown with a bateau neckline.

The First Lady has picked a American beauty red costume for the Capitol ceremony where President Johnson will be sworn in at noon Wednesday. Designed by Sophie of Saks Fifth Avenue, New York, it includes a single-breasted coat of needle-point wool, with a small face-framing collar and tiny black sealskin bow at the neck, over a matching slim-skirted sheer wool dress. The hat, by Adolfo of New York, is American beauty red velours off-the-face, with a black velvet band.

Mrs. Humphrey wanted to make the most of her inaugural wardrobe, but didn't have the time and had to leave it to dressmakers. However, she did make her own inaugural day outfit — a dress of pale cerulean angora and wool broadcloth, semifitted, with simulated slot seaming along the bodice and front of the skirt, giving an empire line.

Over the dress, she'll wear an Alaskan seal coat with sable collar, which she purchased in Anchorage, while on a campaign trip last October. She's been saving it to wear for the first time officially at the ceremony. A black sable hat goes with it.

The main fashion event, of course, is the inaugural ball on Wednesday night, and top-ranking Washington wives have put the emphasis on their ball gowns.

Leading the way will be Mrs. Johnson with a classic long coat and gown ensemble of heavy double-woven jonquil yellow satin, designed by young New York designer John Moore, an Oklahoman who claims Texas as his home state. The gown has a bateau neckline, small wing-capped sleeves. A bias front panel set into the bodice features a slightly raised waistline tapering to a natural waistline in the back, with slight fullness flowing in the skirt.

The matching coat is fully-gored and falls from narrow shoulders to a wider hem. It features a face-framing, stand-up collar with elbow length sleeves circled in natural sables.

With it, Mrs. Johnson will wear a single strand of pearls and the diamond and gold earrings given her by the President on their 30th wedding anniversary last Nov. 17. Yellow satin

Mrs. Bower To Host Guild No. 30 Meet

Mrs. Curtis Bower, Route 1, will be hostess when members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 36 meet 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. George Miller will be co-hostess.

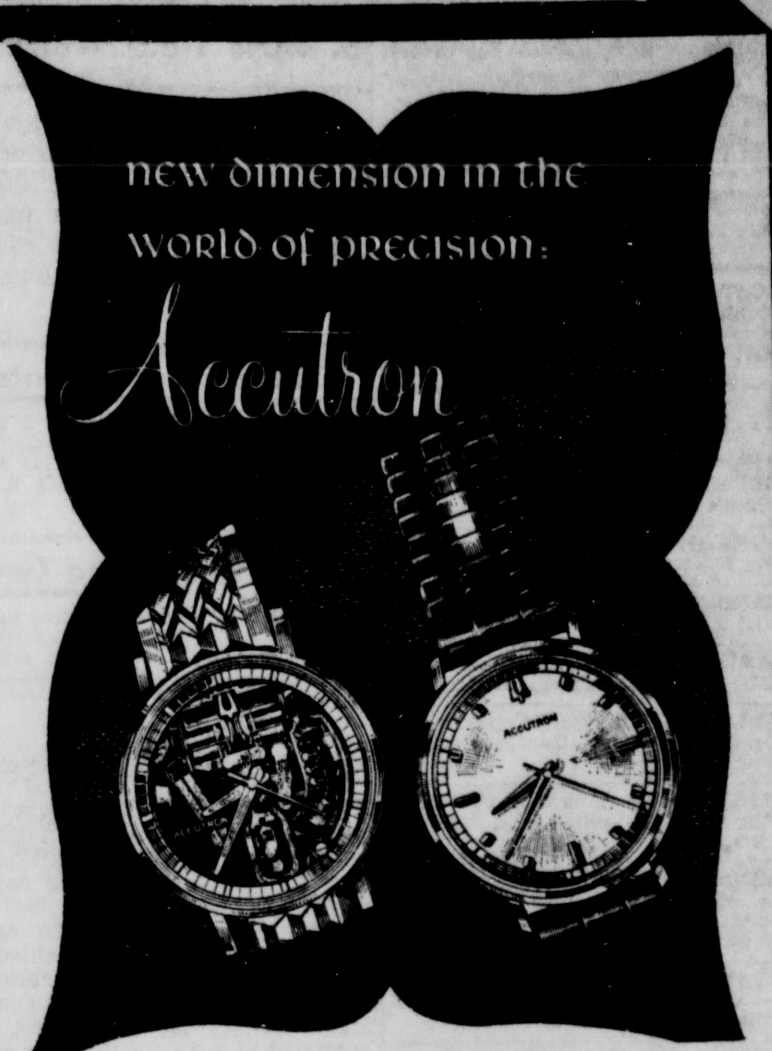

Guild 6 Will Meet

Berger Hospital Guild No. 6 will meet 8 p.m. tomorrow in the home of Ann and Bess Gordon, 604 S. Court St.

medium-heel pumps, white gloves and an envelope handbag of the dress fabric complete the costume.

Mrs. Humphrey's gown, designed by Count Sarmi of New York, is of frailest sheer ribbon lace in wisteria tones, worn with a matching collarless full length coat. The dress has a V-necked bodice, with bow accentuating the empire waistline. The skirt is gently shaped with a scalloped hemline and varied blue and lavender tones give a flowing, water color effect.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

There's a Hitch!

DEAR ABBY: When I started going with Earl ten years ago, he promised me that after he finished his 20 years in the Navy we would get married. Well, he has been out three years now, and he never says anything about marriage any more. He even placed his hand on the Holy Bible once and swore he'd buy me a ring, so when I asked him why he didn't, he said I talked too much. After ten years of going around together he decides I talked too much!

I found a book of matches in his pocket on which was written in his own hand, "Is there any way I can see you tonight?" I am sure he wasn't writing that kind of message to another man. I am 39. Do you think it takes a 41-year-old man ten years to make up his mind?

Demonstration Highlights Sorority Meet

Mrs. Barbara Hille of the Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio presented the program when the Kappa Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Tuesday evening. Mrs. Howard Snook, 615 Garden Parkway was hostess.

Mrs. Thomas Bergen was selected for the personalized demonstration given by Mrs. Hille. She spoke on the complete lash-to-lips cosmetic wardrobe. Each member received a sample product from the speaker.

Miss Jane Badertscher, president, conducted the business meeting. A report of the recent rummage sale was given. Programs were distributed for the year.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. James DeHart.

Other members present were Miss Sue Hauenstein, Mrs. Reber Bell, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Charles Joffe, Mrs. Neil Kern, Mrs. Albert Lovett, Mrs. David Sealock, Mrs. Roger Thomas and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson.

Newcomers Club Slated To Meet

Newcomers Club will meet 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Mason Furniture Co., N. Court St. All new residents are welcome.

Initiation Slated

Initiation will be conducted when the Marie L. Hamilton Assembly No. 170 meet 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Masonic Temple.

Guild 37 To Meet

Members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 37 will meet 8 p.m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. G. B. Lindsey, 554 Green Acre Court.

Joyce Lee Engaged to Mr. Haddox

MISS JOYCE LEE

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Lee, Route 1, Stoutsville, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joyce, to Mr. Kermit Haddox, 327 Barnes Ave., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Haddox, Circleville.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Logan Elm High School and is employed at the Ralston Purina Co.

Mr. Haddox attended Circleville High School and is presently employed at Berger Hospital.

The wedding will take place in March.

Meeting Scheduled By Pythian Sisters

Instruction night will be observed when Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple No. 516 meet 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the K of P Lodge Hall.

The following will serve on the refreshment committee: Mrs. Frances Evans, Mrs. Helen Lucille Good, Miss Nellie Bolender, Mrs. Mary E. Radcliffe and Miss Clarissa Talbot.

K of C Auxiliary To Meet Wednesday

Members of the K of C Auxiliary will meet 8 p.m. Wednesday in the council rooms, S. Pickaway St.

DEAR ABBY: My Mother Dad, husband and I had a big argument and we want you to settle it for us. Every time we go out for dinner, my husband orders steak. He is left-handed and can't cut it properly, so he gives his plate to me and I cut it for him. My parents say that this is not proper, but my husband and I don't see anything wrong with it. What is your opinion?

DEAR ABBY: Why your left-handed husband has trouble eating steak is beyond me. But if he wants you to cut it and you are willing, it should be nobody else's business.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MOTHER OF SEVEN IN COLUMBUS: Television will never replace reading. Limit those children of your to so many programs a day or when opportunity knocks later in life they won't be able to hear it for the television's blaring.

Inaugural Fashion Flurry Is Launched in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first fashion flurry of the inaugural begins this afternoon when 5,000 queue up in the National Gallery to meet Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey.

They announced in advance their gowns for the three-day inaugural celebration, a wide range from warm outdoor outfits to specially designed ball gowns.

They picked their favorite colors — Mrs. Johnson choosing bright shades of yellow, bright red and shimmering whites; and Mrs. Humphrey a patriotic wardrobe of red, white and blue.

Hats were considered optional by Perle Mesta, who issued a "what to wear" manual as social consultant to the inaugural committee chairman.

Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Humphrey planned to wear hats only to the outdoor oath-taking and inaugural parade. They were careful to see their clothes went well together, since they were making joint appearances almost everywhere.

For the late afternoon Distinguished Ladies Reception in the gallery today, dark-haired Mrs. Johnson picked a princess-line holiday-red silk afternoon dress with three-quarter sleeves and gently flared skirt. Silver-haired Mrs. Humphrey's outfit was a sleeveless silver and white brocade, with matching jacket.

For tonight's first evening appearance — the Inaugural Gala, a galaxy of entertainment in honor of the President — Mrs. Johnson's gown by Roxanne of Samuel Winston, New York, will be a long sparkling white peau de soie, with bodice of crystal jewels, bugle beads and paillettes, with matching white stole. Mrs. Humphrey planned to make a last-minute choice between her two gowns for evening formal events. She was expected to wear an empire-style red satin gown with a bateau neckline.

The First Lady has picked a American beauty red costume for the Capitol ceremony where President Johnson will be sworn in at noon Wednesday. Designed by Sophie of Saks Fifth Avenue, New York, it includes a single-breasted coat of needle-point wool, with a small face-framing collar and tiny black sealskin bow at the neck, over a matching slim-skirted sheer wool dress. The hat, by Adolfo of New York, is American beauty red velours off-the-face, with a black velvet band. Mrs. Humphrey wanted to make the most of her inaugural wardrobe, but didn't have the time and had to leave it to dressmakers. However, she did make her own inaugural day outfit — a dress of pale cerulean angora and wool broadcloth, semifitted, with simulated slot seaming along the bodice and front of the skirt, giving an empire line.

Over the dress, she'll wear an Alaskan seal coat with sable collar, which she purchased in Anchorage, while on a campaign trip last October. She's been saving it to wear for the first time officially at the ceremony. A black sable hat goes with it.

The main fashion event, of course, is the inaugural ball on Wednesday night, and top-ranking Washington wives have put the emphasis on their ball gowns.

Leading the way will be Mrs. Johnson with a classic long coat and gown ensemble of heavy double-woven jonquil yellow satin, designed by young New York designer John Moore, an Oklahoman who claims Texas as his home state. The gown has a bateau neckline, small wing-capped sleeves. A bias front panel set into the bodice features a slightly raised waistline tapering to a natural waistline in the back, with slight fullness flowing in the skirt.

The matching coat is fully-gored and falls from narrow shoulders to a wider hem. It features a face-framing, stand-up collar with elbow length sleeves circled in natural sables.

With it, Mrs. Johnson will wear a single strand of pearls and the diamond and gold earrings given her by the President on their 30th wedding anniversary last Nov. 17. Yellow satin

Mrs. Bower To Host Guild No. 30 Meet

Mrs. Curtis Bower, Route 1, will be hostess when members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 36 meet 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

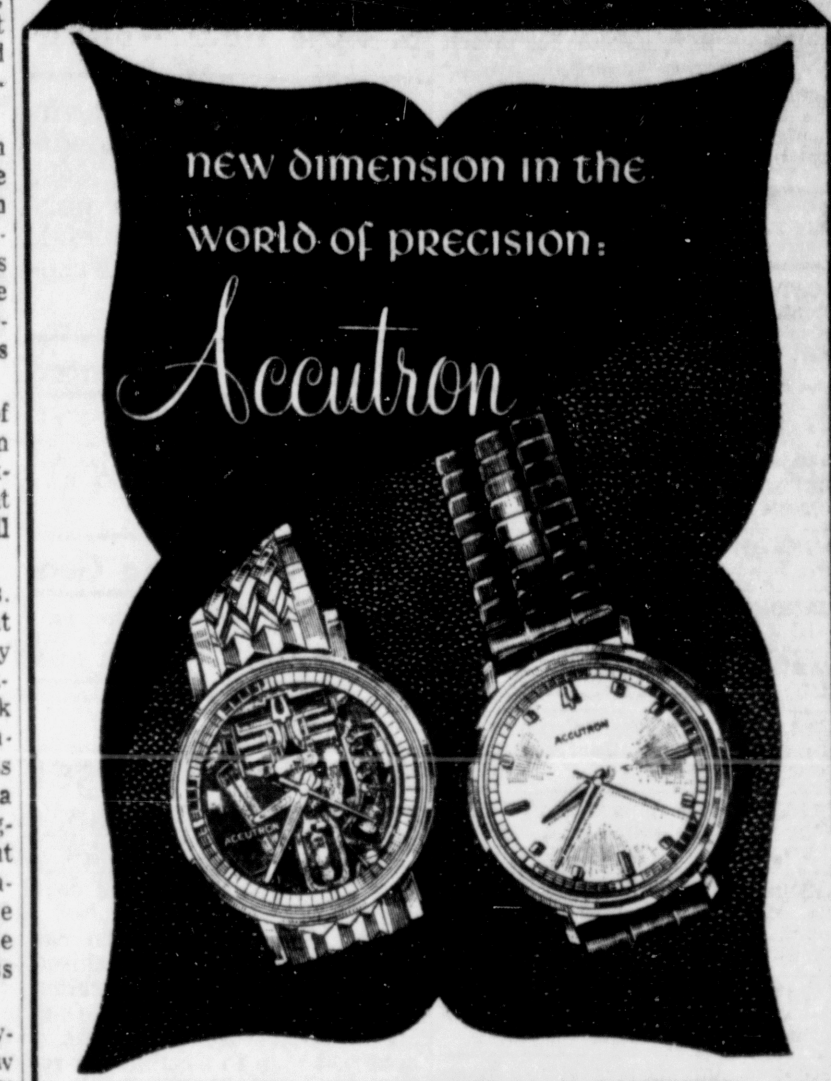

Mrs. George Miller will be co-hostess.

Guild 6 Will Meet

Berger Hospital Guild No. 6 will meet 8 p.m. tomorrow in the home of Ann and Bess Gordon, 604 S. Court St.

medium-heel pumps, white with a matching collarless full length coat. The dress has a V-necked bodice, with bow accentuating the empire waistline.

Mrs. Humphrey's gown, designed by Count Sarmi of New York, is of frailest sheer ribbon lace in wisteria tones, worn flowing, water color effect.

Circleville Tigers Edged 67-63 by Lancaster Gales

By DAVE AMEY
The Circleville Tiger basketball team, trying valiantly to vindicate an 85-63 loss earlier in the season, lost again to tall Lancaster, 67-63, in the CHS gym.

Southeastern Tops Braves In 80-70 Tilt

Logan Elm was defeated by Southeastern, 80-70, Saturday on the Ross County quintet's floor.

The Braves fell behind early in the game. They trailed 22-11 at the end of the first quarter and could never catch up.

Pacing the winners' attack was Elwood Strausbaugh with a 40-point effort. His output came on 15 field goals and 10 charity tosses.

Forced to press because of the early lead built up by the host school, Logan Elm gave up a number of easy points.

HIGH POINT man for the Braves was Russ Merrin who sank six field goals and four charity tosses for 16 points.

The Braves hit 28 of 64 tries from the field for a 44 per cent accuracy rate and made good on 14 of 19 foul shots for a 75 per cent completion average.

The host school players connected on a fabulous 62 per cent of tries, making 28 of 45 field goals. From the foul line they hit 24 of 37 tries. Logan Elm outbounded the victors, 28-24.

The Southeastern reserves made it a perfect night, copying the preliminary tilt.

Saturday the Braves host Chillicothe Bishop Flaget.

Greenfield 78-66 the previous night, stayed constantly close to the visiting Gales.

Both teams started the game in fine fashion. But the taller Lancaster unit inched ahead, 16-12 by the end of the first quarter. The Gales canned seven of 14 tries from the floor. Circleville managed 18 shots, but only hit on six.

The second period proved ragged for both squads. Lancaster scored five of 23 shots, while the Tigers hit on four of 14. At the half, the Gales led by five, 28-23.

AS THE third period started both teams quickly lapsed into different styles of play — Circleville trying to hurry the game along, and Lancaster trying to control it. With one second left in the quarter, John Thomas took a pass from Ron Seward and knotted the score at 44-44.

The Tigers managed eight of 18 in the third period, while Lancaster hit seven of 14.

The Gales started to stall the final period, jumping quickly to 50-44. But the Tigers staged a comeback and with 4:31 left, Thomas evened the game at 52-52. However, the taller Gales took command from that point.

Thomas took game honors, scoring 26 points on 10 field goals and six free throws. The Tiger stalwart grabbed 15 of CHS's 35 rebounds.

Chet Iery played a fine floor game as he hit on seven field goals and three free throws for 17 points. He pulled down seven rebounds.

Seward hit four long field goals for the Tigers, ending the game with eight points. The senior guard shot six times.

JOHN MAXWELL hit two field goals and four foul shots for eight points. Tim Stonerock managed two baskets from the floor.

Chuck Schuyler canned 10 field goals and a free throw for 21 points, pacing the Gales' offense. Gary Crowell managed 17, Terry Webb and Bob Heiskell hit for 12, Baughman had four and Maciocci hit one.

The Tigers played an excellent floor game, committing only six turnovers. They move back into league play next Friday, by hosting Wilmington, co-leader in the SCOL.

The CHS reserves lost to the Lancaster unit 48-44 in a one period overtime game. CHS grabbed a commanding 14-7 lead after the first period, and held on to it at the half leading 25-18. But after the third quarter, the Tiger lead was cut to 34-30 and at the end of regulation play, the score was 39-39.

Joe Winner paced the Tigers with 17 points. Steve Dade scored eight, Tom Jenkins managed six, MacFarland had four, Terry Martin three and both Martin and Dannie Gibbs scored two points.

Schrieber was high point man for Lancaster with 11 points.

Canadians, Aussies Star In Indoor Track Inaugural

BOSTON (AP) — Except for Joe Lynch and Ralph Boston, America's much-decorated forces fell flat in the season's indoor track inaugural. Canadians and an Australian saved the K of C Games.

Lynch, not even listed on the program, was voted the outstanding performer after he was the surprise winner of the mile in 4:06 Saturday night. The Georgetown student wouldn't have competed at all if the uneasy NCAA-AAU truce hadn't been made.

The senior from Highlands, N. J., had never won a mile in better than 4:09 before and feels he's a better two-miler. But he passed Kansas' Bill Dotson on the final lap to take the event.

Lt. Billy Mills, Olympic 10,000-meter champion entered in the mile, was among the scheduled contestants who could not get here due to a blizzard and near-zero temperatures.

Olympian Boston won his broad-jump specialty at 24 feet, 10 inches and also captured the 45-yard hurdles in 5.6 seconds. Bill Crothers and Dave Ellis of Toronto plus Ray Tucker, 17-year-old schoolboy sensation from Hamilton, Ont., were dominant figures.

Crothers, winner of three straight 1,000-yard crowns in this event, switched to the 600 and was clocked in a meet record-equaling time of 1:10.0. Then he finished a 47.8 anchor on the East York Track Club's mile relay team which won in 3:22.6.

Ellis edged Vic Zwolok for an 8:52.2 two-mile.

Tucker caught veteran John Dunkelburg and beat him by two yards in 2:12.0 in the 1,000-yard run, one of the highlights of the meet.

Aussie Larry Peckham was awarded first in the high jump over Richard Ross of Southern University on fewer misses. Both cleared 6-11 1/4.

New Substitution Grid Rule Is OK'd

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — After a dozen years of experimentation, college football's rulemakers may finally have settled on a substitution system that will remain in effect for a long time.

"The new rule will satisfy the desires of all people who coach and administer college football," said Abe Martin of Texas Christian University, president of the American Football Coaches Association.

The rule, adopted Sunday by the Football Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, will permit platoon substitution when the ball changes hands, between periods and after any score. Two players may enter the game at any time.

LSU's passing defense was tops in the Southeastern Conference last season. The Tigers permitted only 63.9 air yards per game.

Tennessee '5' Humbles Baron Rupp's Quintet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The wintry demons that conspired against the Oregon State and Bowling Green basketball teams were nothing compared to the plight of Kentucky's Adolph Rupp.

Oregon State was in a fog and Bowling Green was snowbound, but the undoing of Rupp's Wildcats at Tennessee was a thing called an Iconoclastic Defense with Disharmonious Tendencies.

That's what Tennessee Coach Ray Mears dubbed his 1-3-1 zone after the Vols had whipped Southeastern Conference rival Kentucky 77-58 at Knoxville Saturday. The loss, Kentucky's sixth in 13 starts, dropped the Wildcats' SEC record to 2-2. They entertain league-leading Auburn, 5-0, tonight.

A layer of fog that blanketed the Northwest softened up Oregon State for Pacific Athletic Conference foe Washington State. It took two chartered airplanes and four rented cars — with police escort — to get the Beavers from Seattle to Pullman, Wash., where they lost to the Huskies 64-53.

It was the second defeat in two nights for the Beavers, preseason pick to press national champion UCLA for the conference title, and left them in a last-place tie at 1-3.

Bowling Green, on route to Oxford, Ohio, for its game with Mid American Conference leader Miami, got snagged in the blizzard that hit the Eastern part of the country. The Falcons walked the last mile into Oxford from their snow-stalled bus and took a 74-58 beating from the Redskins. It was Miami's eighth straight league victory and 12th in 13 over-all games.

Foul weather caused cancellation or postponement of several games but failed to stop the nation's top ten teams from completing a rare sweep of their competition during the week.

Keith Erickson and Gail Goodrich, with 21 and 15 points, respectively, led top-ranked UCLA past Stanford 80-66 for its 13th successive triumph after an opening loss at Illinois.

Cazie Russell scored 36 points, equaling his own Michigan single-game mark, as the runner-up Wolverines trimmed Northwestern 90-68 and took the lead in the Big Ten Conference race.

Wichita, No. 3, held the top spot in the Missouri Valley Conference with a 75-64 victory over St. Louis.

Fourth-ranked St. Joseph's, Pa., routed Lafayette 82-68; No. 5 Indiana topped Ohio State 84-72; No. 7 St. John's, N.Y., beat Seton Hall 79-69; No. 8 Davidson smashed Presbyterian 130-67; No. 9 San Francisco reversed an earlier loss to Santa Clara 89-77 and No. 10 Duke belted Wake Forest 105-77.

Sixth-ranked Providence, the only unbeaten major team, did not play.

Tennessee's I.D.D.T. was Mears' answer to Rupp's "stratified hyperbolic paraboloid defense" with which Kentucky stymied the ambitious Vols last season.

"I've saved this for a whole year," Mears said of his tongue-twisting zone after A. W. Davis' 24 points led Tennessee to its third conference victory in four tries and a 10-2 season mark.

The Circleville Tiger basketball team, trying valiantly to vindicate an 85-63 loss earlier in the season, lost again to tall Lancaster, 67-63, in the CHS gym.

Southeastern Tops Braves In 80-70 Tilt

Logan Elm was defeated by Southeastern, 80-70, Saturday on the Ross County quintet's floor.

The Braves fell behind early in the game. They trailed 22-11 at the end of the first quarter and could never catch up.

Pacing the winners' attack was Elwood Strausbaugh with a 40-point effort. His output came on 15 field goals and 10 charity tosses for 16 points.

The Braves hit 28 of 44 tries from the field for a 64 per cent accuracy rate and made good on 14 of 19 foul shots for a 75 per cent completion average.

The host school players connected on a fabulous 62 per cent of tries, making 28 of 45 field goals. From the foul line they hit 24 of 37 tries. Logan Elm out rebounded the victors, 28-24.

The Southeastern reserves made it a perfect night, copping the preliminary tilt.

Saturday the Braves host Chillicothe Bishop Flaget.

Canadians, Aussies Star In Indoor Track Inaugural

BOSTON (AP) — Except for Joe Lynch and Ralph Boston, America's much-decorated forces fell flat in the season's indoor track inaugural. Canadians and an Australian saved the K of C Games.

Lynch, not even listed on the program, was voted the outstanding performer after he was the surprise winner of the mile in 4:06 Saturday night. The Georgetown student wouldn't have competed at all if the uneasy NCAA-AAU truce hadn't been made.

The senior from Highlands, N. J., had never won a mile in better than 4:09 before and feels he's a better two-miler. But he passed Kansas' Bill Dotson on the final lap to take the event.

Lt. Billy Mills, Olympic 10,000-meter champion entered in the mile, was among the scheduled contestants who could not get here due to a blizzard and near-zero temperatures.

Olympian Boston won his broad-jump specialty at 24 feet, 10 inches and also captured the 45-yard hurdles in 5.6 seconds. Bill Crothers and Dave Ellis of Toronto plus Ray Tucker, 17-year-old schoolboy sensation from Hamilton, Ont., were dominant figures.

Crothers, winner of three straight 1,000-yard crowns in this event, switched to the 600 and was clocked in a meet record-equaling time of 1:10.0. Then he finished a 47.8 anchor on the East York Track Club's mile relay team which won in 3:22.6.

Ellis edged Vic Zwolak for an 8:52.2 two-mile.

Tucker caught veteran John Dunkelberg and beat him by two yards in 2:12.0 in the 1,000-yard run, one of the highlights of the meet.

Aussie Larry Peckham was awarded first in the high jump over Richard Ross of Southern University on fewer misses. Both cleared 6-11 1/4.

Resolution for Amendment On Apportioning Submitted

Congressman William L. Harsha, Ohio 6th District, today introduced a Resolution for a Constitutional Amendment which would authorize the apportionment of one house of a State legislature on factors other than population.

Congressman Harsha stated, "I have always believed that the people are the fountain head of governmental power under our form of government. Therefore, I have introduced this measure to establish the right of the people to choose whether or not they wish to have one house of their legislature of their State apportioned on the basis of factors other than population."

"The Supreme Court," according to the congressman, "has devoted attention only to the issue of numerical equality. This is a meritorious concept, but should be balanced by other equally important factors."

"People who reside in States are not mere numbers," the Congressman stated. "They are people with dissimilar and sometimes conflicting needs, with conflicting hopes and aspirations, and with ever changing problems that sometimes fail to yield to computer logic."

Harsha pointed out that the State of Ohio, as do so many other states, provides that one house of its legislature shall be apportioned on the basis of equal population. He indicated that his newly introduced resolution would preserve this requirement.

"But," he said, "the people of a State should be given the opportunity to decide that additional economic, geographic, social, and political factors may be taken into consideration when apportioning the other house."

"This represents the fundamental concept of our republican form of government," the Congressman stressed. "Without the people of a State having the right to determine the composition of their representative government, they may forever be constrained to follow the dictates of a divided Supreme Court."

Information Agency's Film Budget Hits $7.5 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Information Agency, snarled in controversy over a film about the war in South Vietnam, is in the movie business in a big way — $7.5 million worth this year.

It produced some 600 documentaries, newsreels and short subjects last year in an effort to present the American viewpoint overseas. Officials estimate that some 750 million persons around the world see such movies each year.

USIA's distribution network — which it describes as the world's largest — reaches into more than 100 countries.

This week's flare-up stemmed from an Associated Press account of a mock battle being staged for cameramen in South Vietnam. USIA Director Carl Rowan ordered an end to any faked fighting scenes but kept the $100,000 Vietnamese film project rolling ahead.

The USIA considers movies one of its most effective ways of presenting the American viewpoint because they can reach people who cannot read or who are in areas without television.

The stated objective of the show people in non-Communist countries the conditions that exist in Red-pressed South Vietnam.

All told, USIA has produced films in more than 75 countries. One 14-minute documentary, "The President," showing the White House transition after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, was sent to 111 countries in 39 language versions.

Most USIA motion pictures which do not have to be rushed abroad because of a spot news event are initially sent in the English language to USIA's foreign posts for a review before distribution. The USIA post officers make recommendations on how to make the film more useful locally and advise what languages and how many copies are needed.

USIA then makes a final version for overseas showings. Its movies have been recorded in more than 50 major languages and used by USIA's 228 posts in 106 countries. The agency has 7,350 projectors and 208 mobile motion picture units abroad.

The films are released through various channels. In some countries theater distribution systems carry the USIA product — not always identified as such — for showing in local movie houses. Television stations abroad also use the films. And USIA offices lend the movies to local organizations, show them at USIA posts or go into the field with mobile units.

Air Guard Is Given 4 Camp Sites

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four summer training sites, including one in Europe, have been picked for Air National Guardsmen from Ohio's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing.

Here is the tentative schedule:

179th Tactical Fighter Group, Mansfield—Planning to fly its F84F jet fighter bombers to Europe, probably West Germany, July 15-31.

178th Tactical Fighter Group, Springfield — Taking its F84F jets to Alpena, Mich., June 26-July 10.

121st Tactical Fighter Group, Columbus — Training at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, July 31-Aug. 4.

121st Tactical Fighter Wing Headquarters, Columbus — Serving as headquarters for Air Guard jet fighter bomber units taking part in Army-Air Force Swift Strike IV exercise in the Carolinas Sept. 5-19.

African craftsmen, long famous for their starkly primitive tribal masks and statues, are now being praised for their pottery.

Weather Fails To Halt District Elks Conference

Despite heavy snows which clogged highways, nearly 300 persons were registered here for the two-day weekend meeting of the South Central District of the Ohio Elks Assn.

The session, which featured a district ritualistic contest, was hosted by Circleville lodge, BPO Elks. Only two — Marysville and Iron-ton — of the 14 lodges in the district failed to send delegates to the conference.

In the ritualistic contest, Chillicothe successfully defended the district title it won last year. It will compete next April in the state contest.

However, the Ross County victory was slim. The winners edged the Columbus team by only a fraction of a percentage point and the capital city team also will be allowed to compete on the state level.

Third place in the judging went to Jackson, followed by Circleville, Lancaster and Newark.

THE all-district ritualistic team was made up of:

Exalted ruler: David DeMent of Newark; esquire, Howard Gahn of Jackson; leading knight, James Haubert of Chillicothe; loyal knight, Donald Colburn of Chillicothe; lecturing knight, William Ward of Chillicothe; chaplain, Frank Rose of Columbus; and inner guard, James Eilers of Columbus.

Business sessions of the conference were directed by Leo Morgan of Circleville, district activities chairman, while local hospitality arrangements were made by William Rickey, presiding officer of Circleville lodge, along with his corps of officers.

During Sunday afternoon's business session, a special party for the ladies was held under the supervision of Mrs. Richard Plum, Mrs. William Rickey, Mrs. Marshall Winner, Mrs. David Goldschmidt, Mrs. Gene Lindsey, Mrs. Gunner Musselman and Mrs. Sterling Poling.

The ladies' party featured a round of games and a demonstration in flower arrangements given by Mrs. Keith Wagner of Walnut Street Greenhouse.

Lodge Holds To Optimism

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge strongly opposes a negotiated settlement for the war in Viet Nam and says the struggle against the Communists can be won.

But "in order to achieve victory," he said, "there must be within Viet Nam the same degree of civil-political success as there is military success."

He said the current military deadlock "is building the springboard for victory."

Lodge was U.S. ambassador to Saigon from August 1963 until last June. He was the Republican vice-presidential candidate in 1960, and is a former ambassador to the United Nations. He also was a senator from Massachusetts.

"If Viet Nam falls to the Communists," Lodge said, "it would shatter confidence all around the world in America's ability to carry out a vitally important commitment."

New GOP Chief Is Seen Key to Rhodes' Fortunes

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Selection of a new Republican state chairman could project Gov. James A. Rhodes into the national limelight he has shunned.

Selection of a successor to Ray C. Bliss, on the move from state to national chairman April 1, could open the door for Rhodes to boost his already considerable political prestige.

Rhodes managed to stand clear of the Republican upheaval that led to the choice of Bliss by party leaders to direct a comeback try after the Democratic landslide last November.

The well-financed state organization nurtured by Bliss during 16 years as state chairman augments, rather than dominates, Rhodes' own machine being oiled for his reelection bid.

The rapport between Rhodes and Bliss, who says he is for any Republican once nominated, apparently was one of accommodation.

Whether that status continues or blends obviously depends on the new state chairman.

Rhodes insists he is taking no direct part in selection of Bliss' successor. He says only that when the choice is made, it will be mutually agreeable.

Bliss maintains he hasn't had time to think about anyone for the post to be filled by the Republican State Central Committee of 46 members, a number of them county chairmen.

Bliss said he would apprise committee members of his plans at their meeting here next Wednesday but that it would take another meeting to name his successor.

The committee is composed of two members — a man and a woman — elected in each of Ohio's 23 congressional districts.

Early speculation focuses on John S. Andrews of Toledo, Lucas County Chairman; and Kent B. McGough of Lima, Allen County Chairman, as leading contenders for the state post. They are friends of both Rhodes and Bliss.

Andrews was Bliss' first selection as a full-time paid executive director in a major Ohio city and headed field workers in state headquarters before taking over as county chairman in 1962. Under his leadership, Republicans won control of Toledo City Council and elected a GOP mayor. Lucas County went heavily Democratic last year, however.

Allen County under McGough went Republican by a thin margin in the Democratic landslide, a factor pointed out by GOP Congressman William McCulloch of Piqua in boosting him for chairman.

McCulloch, a member of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, says he and others are interested in a state chairman who recognizes the importance of congressional elections every two years.

Another congressman, Samuel L. Devine, Columbus Republican, says he is for H. Richard P. Niehoff, chairman of the Ohio Republican Finance Committee to succeed Bliss.

William Schneider, Franklin County GOP Chairman, also favors Niehoff, Columbus attorney regarded by some as more likely to continue as finance chairman when that committee elects officers later this month.

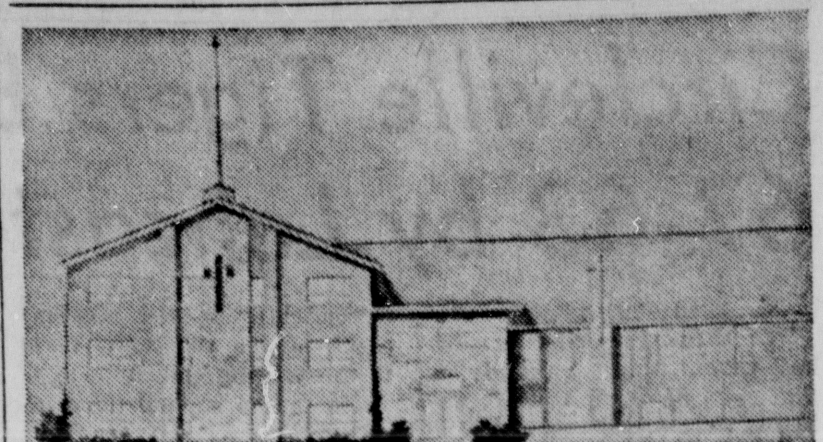

Schneider, who also has been mentioned as a state chairman prospect, is a member of the State Central Committee along with Andrews and McGough. Niehoff is not on the Central Committee.

Present rules require election of a Central Committee member as state chairman. But Schneider points out that the rules could be changed to accommodate a non-member rather than accept a resignation to provide a committee seat for a prospective chairman.

Roy Martin, former Scioto County Chairman now an executive assistant to Rhodes, is another mentioned for the state chairmanship. Martin, who says he is not seeking the post but declines to remove himself from speculation, is looked upon more as a reserve to be called up only if an unexpected deadlock should develop. Martin reportedly has been in contact with Andrews.

A. L. DeMaironibus, Cuyahoga County Chairman, says he is not a candidate but may advance one of his own with the backing of the eight Central Committee members in that county, which embraces four congressional districts.

Resolution for Amendment On Apportioning Submitted

Congressman William L. Harsha, Ohio 6th District, today introduced a Resolution for a Constitutional Amendment which would authorize the apportionment of one house of a State legislature on factors other than population.

Congressman Harsha stated, "I have always believed that the people are the fountain head of governmental power under our form of government. Therefore, I have introduced this measure to establish the right of the people to choose whether or not they wish to have one house of their legislature of their State apportioned on the basis of factors other than population."

"The Supreme Court," according to the congressman, "has devoted attention only to the issue of numerical equality. This is a meritorious concept, but should be balanced by other equally important factors."

"People who reside in States are not mere numbers," the Congressman stated. "They are people with dissimilar and sometimes conflicting needs, with conflicting hopes and aspirations, and with ever changing problems that sometimes fail to yield to computer logic."

Harsha pointed out that the State of Ohio, as do so many other states, provides that one house of its legislature shall be apportioned on the basis of equal population. He indicated that his newly introduced resolution would preserve this requirement.

"But," he said, "the people of a State should be given the opportunity to decide that additional economic, geographic, social, and political factors may be taken into consideration when apportioning the other house."

"This represents the fundamental concept of our republican form of government," the Congressman stressed. "Without the people of a State having the right to determine the composition of their representative government, they may forever be constrained to follow the dictates of a divided Supreme Court."

Information Agency's Film Budget Hits $7.5 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Information Agency, snarled in controversy over a film about the war in South Vietnam, is in the movie business in a big way — $7.5 million worth this year.

It produced some 600 documentaries, newsreels and short subjects last year in an effort to present the American viewpoint overseas. Officials estimate that some 750 million persons around the world see such movies each year.

USIA's distribution network — which it describes as the world's largest — reaches into more than 100 countries.

This week's flare-up stemmed from an Associated Press account of a mock battle being staged for cameramen in South Vietnam. USIA Director Carl Rowan ordered an end to any faked fighting scenes but kept the $100,000 Vietnamese film project rolling ahead.

The USIA considers movies one of its most effective ways of presenting the American viewpoint because they can reach people who cannot read or who are in areas without television. The stated objective of the show people in non-Communist countries the conditions that exist in Red-pressed South Vietnam.

All told, USIA has produced films in more than 75 countries. One 14-minute documentary, "The President," showing the White House transition after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, was sent to 111 countries in 39 language versions.

Most USIA motion pictures which do not have to be rushed abroad because of a spot news event are initially sent in the English language to USIA's foreign posts for a review before distribution. The USIA post officers make recommendations on how to make the film more useful locally and advise what languages and how many copies are needed.

USIA then makes a final version for overseas showings. Its movies have been recorded in more than 50 major languages and used by USIA's 228 posts in 106 countries. The agency has 7,350 projectors and 208 mobile motion picture units abroad.

The films are released through various channels. In some countries theater distribution systems carry the USIA product — not always identified as such — for showing in local movie houses. Television stations abroad also use the films. And USIA offices lend the movies to local organizations, show them at USIA posts or go into the field with mobile units.

Air Guard Is Given 4 Camp Sites

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four summer training sites, including one in Europe, have been picked for Air National Guardsmen from Ohio's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing.

Here is the tentative schedule: 179th Tactical Fighter Group, Mansfield—Planning to fly its F84F jet fighter bombers to Europe, probably West Germany, July 15-31.

178th Tactical Fighter Group, Springfield — Taking its F84F jets to Alpena, Mich., June 26-July 10.

121st Tactical Fighter Group, Columbus — Training at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, July 31-Aug. 4.

121st Tactical Fighter Wing Headquarters, Columbus — Serving as headquarters for Air Guard jet fighter bomber units taking part in Army-Air Force Swift Strike IV exercise in the Carolinas Sept. 5-19.

African craftsmen, long famous for their starkly primitive tribal masks and statues, are now being praised for their pottery.

Weather Fails To Halt District Elks Conference

Despite heavy snows which clogged highways, nearly 300 persons were registered here for the two-day weekend meeting of the South Central District of the Ohio Elks Assn.

The session, which featured a district ritualistic contest, was hosted by Circleville lodge, BPO Elks. Only two — Marysville and Iron-ton — of the 14 lodges in the district failed to send delegates to the conference.

In the ritualistic contest, Chillicothe successfully defended the district title it won last year. It will compete next April in the state contest.

However, the Ross County victory was slim. The winners edged the Columbus team by only a fraction of a percentage point and the capital city team also will be allowed to compete on the state level.

Third place in the judging went to Jackson, followed by Circleville, Lancaster and Newark.

THE all-district ritualistic team was made up of:

Exalted ruler: David De-Ment of Newark; esquire, Howard Gahm of Jackson; leading knight, James Haubert of Chillicothe; loyal knight, Donald Colburn of Chillicothe; lecturing knight, William Ward of Chillicothe; chaplain, Frank Rose of Columbus; and inner guard, James Eilers of Columbus.

Business sessions of the conference were directed by Leo Morgan of Circleville, district activities chairman, while local hospitality arrangements were made by William Rickey, presiding officer of Circleville lodge, along with his corps of officers.

During Sunday afternoon's business session, a special party for the ladies was held under the supervision of Mrs. Richard Plum, Mrs. William Rickey, Mrs. Marshall Winner, Mrs. David Goldschmidt, Mrs. Gene Lindsey, Mrs. Gunner Musselman and Mrs. Sterling Poling.

The ladies' party featured a round of games and a demonstration in flower arrangements given by Mrs. Keith Wagner of Walnut Street Greenhouse.

Lodge Holds To Optimism

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge strongly opposes a negotiated settlement for the war in Viet Nam and says the struggle against the Communists can be won.

But "in order to achieve victory," he said, "there must be within Viet Nam the same degree of civil-political success as there is military success."

He said the current military deadlock "is building the springboard for victory."

Lodge was U.S. ambassador to Saigon from August 1963 until last June. He was the Republican vice-presidential candidate in 1960, and is a former ambassador to the United Nations. He also was a senator from Massachusetts.

"If Viet Nam falls to the Communists," Lodge said, "it would shatter confidence all around the world in America's ability to carry out a vitally important commitment."

New GOP Chief Is Seen Key to Rhodes' Fortunes

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Selection of a new Republican state chairman could project Gov. James A. Rhodes into the national limelight he has shunned.

Selection of a successor to Ray C. Bliss, on the move from state to national chairman April 1, could open the door for Rhodes to boost his already considerable political prestige.

Rhodes managed to stand clear of the Republican upheaval that led to the choice of Bliss by party leaders to direct a comeback try after the Democratic landslide last November.

The well-financed state organization nurtured by Bliss during 16 years as state chairman augments, rather than dominates, Rhodes' own machine being oiled for his reelection bid.

The rapport between Rhodes and Bliss, who says he is for any Republican once nominated, apparently was one of accommodation.

Whether that status continues or blends obviously depends on the new state chairman.

Rhodes insists he is taking no direct part in selection of Bliss' successor. He says only that when the choice is made, it will be mutually agreeable.

Bliss maintains he hasn't had time to think about anyone for the post to be filled by the Republican State Central Committee of 46 members, a number of them county chairmen.

Bliss said he would apprise committee members of his plans at their meeting here next Wednesday but that it would take another meeting to name his successor.

The committee is composed of two members — a man and a woman — elected in each of Ohio's 23 congressional districts.

Early speculation focuses on John S. Andrews of Toledo, Lucas County Chairman; and Kent B. McGough of Lima, Allen County Chairman, as leading contenders for the state post. They are friends of both Rhodes and Bliss.

Andrews was Bliss' first selection as a full-time paid executive director in a major Ohio city and headed field workers in state headquarters before taking over as county chairman in 1962. Under his leadership, Republicans won control of Toledo City Council and elected a GOP mayor. Lucas County went heavily Democratic last year, however.

Allen County under McGough went Republican by a thin margin in the Democratic landslide, a factor pointed out by GOP Congressman William McCulloch of Piqua in boosting him for chairman.

McCulloch, a member of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, says he and others are interested in a state chairman who recognizes the importance of congressional elections every two years.

Another congressman, Samuel L. Devine, Columbus Republican, says he is for H. Richard P. Niehoff, chairman of the Ohio Republican Finance Committee to succeed Bliss.

William Schneider, Franklin County GOP Chairman, also favors Niehoff, Columbus attorney regarded by some as more likely to continue as finance chairman when that committee elects officers later this month.

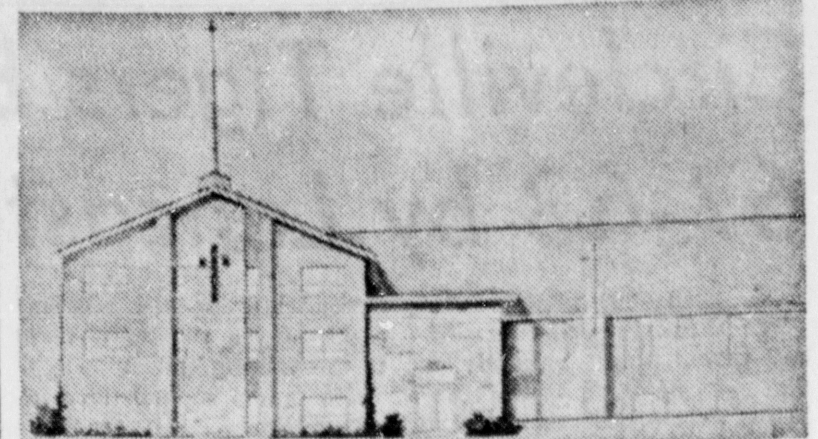

Schneider, who also has been mentioned as a state chairman prospect, is a member of the State Central Committee along with Andrews and McGough. Niehoff is not on the Central Committee.

Present rules require election of a Central Committee member as state chairman. But Schneider points out that the rules could be changed to accommodate a non-member rather than accept a resignation to provide a committee seat for a prospective chairman.

Roy Martin, former Scioto County Chairman now an executive assistant to Rhodes, is another mentioned for the state chairmanship. Martin, who says he is not seeking the post but declines to remove himself from speculation, is looked upon more as a reserve to be called up only if an unexpected deadlock should develop. Martin reportedly has been in contact with Andrews.

A. L. DeMairtois, Cuyahoga County Chairman, says he is not a candidate but may advance one of his own with the backing of the eight Central Committee members in that county, which embraces four congressional districts.
